CONTENTS

Introduction

• Why Punjab 5
• Fusion of Traditions 6
• Literature Review: Concerns and Limitations 8
  o Punjabi Sources
  o Persian Sources
  o Foreign Travelogues
• Secondary Literature 45
• A Glimpse of Chapters 62

Chapter I
The Land and its People 72-108

• Punjab: Geographical Understanding 73
• A Brief Survey of Political Conditions 80
• Guru Nanak on Political Milieu 86
• Social Milieu 88
• Religious Milieu 99

Chapter II
Bhakti Sants on Women: A Comparative Trajectory between Kabir and Guru Nanak 109-139

• The Social Background: A Reality 109
• Bhakti Sants on Women: A Brief Recap 113
  o Kabir
  o Dadu
  o Surdas
  o Tulsidas
  o Mira
• Usage of the term “Sant” and Guru Nanak 121
• Comparative Trajectory between Kabir and Guru Nanak 124
• Conclusion 137
Part II
Stri Svabhav: Stri Dharam and the Prevailing Realities

Introduction 140-147

Chapter III
Marriage 148-192
- The Institution of Marriage: An Overview 148
- Caste and Marriage 161
- Varied Forms of Marriages 169
- Child Marriage 174
- Polygamy 176
- Exogamous Marriages: Impact on Women 181
- Widow Remarriage or Patriarchal Guardianship 186

Chapter IV
Women's Position in Social Sphere 193-240
- Rituals and Ceremonies 193
  o Marriage Rituals
  o Other Life Cycle Rituals
- Family a Complex Web: Locus of Love or Conflict: Domination or Subordination 211
- Women as Mothers: A Lifeline of a Society 216
- Wife: An Ardhangani or Burden 219
- Inheritance Laws and Women's Economic Contribution 230
- Weapons of the Weak 235

Chapter V
Discrimination Against Women: Social Evils 241-263
- Girl Child and Female Infanticide 241
- Purdah 246
- Prostitution 250
- Sati 254
- Guru's Perception on Women's Condition 259
Chapter VI
Development of Sikh Panth: Construction or Deconstruction of Women's Identity

- Social Composition of the Panth and its Changing Focus of Concern

Conclusion

References and Selected Bibliography