List of Tables and Illustrations

[III. 1] Ground plan of the monastic complex of Tabo (C. Luczanits, based on a plan from Khosla 1979, p. 38; illustrated in Klimburg-Salter 2005, p. 9)
[III. 2] Basic plan of the Dharmadhatu-Vāgīśvara maṇḍala in the dukhang, Alchi
[III. 3] Maṇḍalas in the second story of the sumtseg in Alchi
[III. 4] Dynamism between Mahāvairocana and Prajñāparamitā in the two maṇḍalas of the third story of the sumtseg
[III. 6] Analysis of the basic compositional lines in the inner zone of the Vajradhātu-maṇḍala in the dukhang, Alchi
[III. 7] Analysis of the basic compositional lines in the inner zone of the Vajradhādu-maṇḍala based on the references from the Vajrāvalī (the maṇḍala published in Chandra & Vira 1995, p. 63)
[III. 8] Analysis of the compositional lines in the central chamber of the Vajradhātu-maṇḍala in the dukhang, Alchi
[III. 9] Compositional lines added to the III. 8 in order to trace the proportional principle of the bodily form of Mahāvairocana
[III. 10] Analysis of the compositional lines in the Tārā circle, Vajradhātu-maṇḍala in the dukhang, Alchi
[III. 11] Compositional lines for the delineation of Mahāvairocana in the central chamber of the Vajradhātu-maṇḍala, dukhang, Alchi
[III. 12] The bodily form of Mahāvairocana consisting of triangles
[III. 13] Analysis of the body of Tārā, Vajradhātu-maṇḍala in the dukhang, Alchi

* The numbers given after the ‘Ill. 5-’ in the illustrations of the thesis indicate the number as published in the Don-'grub-rDo-rje in Rong-tha Blo-bzang-dam-chos-rgya-mtsho 1971.

[Table 1] Variations of the six identical maṇḍalas in the second story of the sumtseg in Alchi
[Table 2] Iconographic Composition of three maṇḍalas in the third story of the sumtseg
[Table 3] Corresponding concepts of the Five Buddhas
[Table 4] Emergence of the sixteen Bodhisattvas in the Sarvatathāgatatattvasaṃgraha, chapter I.
[Table 5] Maṇḍalas and symbolic concepts given in different texts
[Table 6] Symbolic layers of Five Primary Colours as given in the Mahāvairocana-abhisambodhi Tantra

[Table 7] Correspondence between the four levels of vāk, three ākṣiṇa and five ākṣiṇa.

[Table 8] Correspondence between the twelve stages of OM uccāra and the four levels of vāk.