ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

At the outset, I owe my deepest sense of gratitude and indebtedness to Kuvempu University for support to conduct this study. The present work is an outcome of the research work done by me under the supervision of Dr. Dhananjaya K.B. Associate Professor and Guide, Department of P.G. Studies and Research in Economics, Sahyadri Arts and Commerce College, Shivamogga, to whom I am indebted for his constant encouragement in completing this work.

I am also indebted to Prof. T.R. Manjunath, Dr. Jayaram Bhatt, Dr. Yogesh H.N. the teaching faculty of the Department of P.G. Studies and Research in Economics, Kuvempu University for their academic inspirations and assist in completing this work. I must remember with gratitude the friendly help and advice of Dr. N.K. Gowda, Dr. B.P. Veerabhadrappa, Dr. K.B. Rangappa of the Dept. of Studies and Research in Economics, Davanagere University.

My heartfelt thanks are due to the members and leaders of the sample self help groups for giving me time and sharing their invaluable experience. Further, officials of the Child and Women Development and District Statistical Office, Davanagere District deserve my appreciation for their whole hearted and kindness in providing me the necessary data and information for the study.

No words are adequate to express my thanks to Dr. G. M. Dinesh, Assistant Professor, my colleague for providing help at various stages of the study. It is a great pleasure to acknowledge the help received from my department colleagues B.B. Sunugar, Dr. S. Devendrappa, K. G. Ravi. I also remember G.S. Ranganath, Principal, Dr. K.M. Mallikarjun, Dr. M. Majanna, Dr. S. Thirumal, S.R. Anjannappa, Late M.O. Thippaiah, and G.T. Shashikala, Assitant prof. of English and G R Gurumurthy, Chief Librarian, Government First Grade College & P G Centre, Davangere-577004. It is also a great pleasure to acknowledge former Principal Prof. D. Basavaraj. I am also indebted to all teaching and non teaching staff of the Government First Grade College, Davanagere.

Finally, I express gratitude to my beloved family members and friends for their constant encouragement and moral support in completing this work.
