ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

My interest in the history of Middle Class women in colonial Tamilnadu developed under the guidance of Professor K.N. Panikkar. I am grateful to him for his encouragement and valuable comments.

K. Chandru's criticisms of my views on politics and the history of Tamil culture cleared many of my misconceptions. My interaction with Dr. Padmini Swaminathan helped me reformulate my ideas on women's question. She has also patiently gone through my draft chapters. Dr. M.S.S. Pandian gave detailed comments on an earlier draft.

A.R. Venkatachalapathy helped me locate source materials and proof read my thesis. Dr. P. Adiyaman, Ms. Pankajam Sivaraman and Dr. Indira Ramamurthy gave me the access to rare biographies, autographies, diaries and letters of women activists. Mr. Sivaprakasam of Darasuram and Advocate Balakrishnan of Madurai helped me conduct interviews among women activists.

Late Raja Muthaiya Chettiari at Karaikudi, the staff of Periyar Thidal Library, Tamilnadu State Archives, Mariamalai Adigal Library, Adyar Theosophical Society Library, NMML and Sahitya Academy Library at New Delhi extended their kind cooperation.

Anna Chandy helped me finalise my thesis. I gained much from discussions with Meera. V, Kavitha Bhatia and Nalini Taneja. Santhosh Kumar drew the map and Mr. R.R. Pillai converted my draft chapters into a typed thesis.
Finally, I wish to acknowledge the support and encouragement of my parents and family members.

I wish to thank all these friends for their help and cooperation. However, I alone am responsible for any errors and omissions in this Thesis.

17 August 1992
New Delhi

Anandhi S.
(ANANDHI.S)