Acknowledgements

I express my most sincere gratitude and indebtedness to my TEACHER Professor Tapas Majumdar, whose affable treatment, scholarly guidance and unstinted support, has enabled me to complete this work. I must thank Dr. Sushila Singhal, Chairperson, Zakir Hussain Centre for Educational Studies, JNU for her encouragement and deep concern for the completion of this work. Dr. Vimla Veeraraghavan and Dr. S C Ghosh have all along been a great source of encouragement. I am greatly indebted to them.

I must confess that this dissertation could not have seen the light of the day, but for the inexhaustible patience of my husband, Dr. G D Sharma, in bearing my depressions and off moods throughout the completion of this study. His constructive criticisms, meaningful guidance and scholarly comments were indeed very essential for me for carrying out this study right from the conception till its conclusion. I am unable to express my feelings for him except, to say that I have a claim on his invaluable contributions.

The study has been completed during my stay at Indira Gandhi National Open University as Research Officer. I am grateful to Professor G. Ram Reddy, Ex-Vice-Chancellor of the University for allowing me to carry out this work and also for providing me with a work load with which I could complete this dissertation. I am also thankful to the acting Vice-Chancellor of IGNOU, Professor B. S. Sharma, who always encouraged me to undertake as well as complete this work.

Dr. Jagdish Narain, Ex-Secretary, Association of Indian Universities was a great source of strength at the initial stages of this work, when I was serving the AIU. It was his encouragement which helped me to undertake this work. My heartfelt thanks are also due to him.

Dr. Furqan Qamar came to my rescue when I really needed him. I must express my sincere thanks to him for sparing his time for going through the draft of the study and for giving very useful comments on the same in a very short period.

I am also thankful to all of my friends, specially, Ms. Poonam Bhushan, Ms. Deepa, Mr. G V Ramanna, Mr. Ashutosh Chandra for their invaluable contributions in the completion of this work.

Mr. Sutinder Singh and his staff deserve special mention for providing me all the library facilities at the Association of Indian Universities. I express my sincere thanks to all of them. I am also grateful to Mrs. Leela Jaganathan, Librarian of the Indira Gandhi National Open University for her immense help and active cooperation.
My all family members, particularly my sister-in-laws, Mrs. Prakashwati and Mrs. Pramila Shrimali have always remained a great source of inspiration for me in completion of this work. I am grateful to all of them.

During the last-years, while I was working on the present study, I have been helped, encouraged and inspired by several other than the mentioned persons and institutions. While I fail to find appropriate words to thank each one of them individually, I would like to convey my deepest sense of gratitude for their contributions in the conduct of the present study.

Last, but not the least, my daughter Mansi deserves a special thanks from her "MA" whose childhood silently, patiently and painfully bore up my off moods and absence from home.

MRIDULA