ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

In preparing this dissertation I have received valuable guidance from a number of my well-wishers as well as from several distinguished scholars and to all of them I owe a considerable debt of gratitude. I must acknowledge first of all my gratitude to my father, Dr. Dhirendra Nath Biswas, who from his personal knowledge and direct participation in the national movement gave me a brief outline of the whole scheme. I am much indebted to my Supervisor Dr. G. P. Bhattacharjee, Head of the Department of International Relations, Jadavpur University, for helping me in all stages and for sustaining my interest in the subject. I had to go to a number of libraries in Calcutta and Delhi in order to collect materials, and everywhere I have received ungrudging co-operation and assistance from the staff. My thanks are due to all of them. I would like to mention in particular the name of Sri Arun Kumar Ray, Library Assistant, Central Library, Jadavpur University, because of immense help I received from him. My sincere thanks are also due to the various leaders whom I was able to interview.

Calcutta. Chandi Charan Biswas.
The following abbreviated references have been used in this thesis:

Sarat Rachanavali : Subodh Sengupta, Devipada Bhattacharyya, Gopal Chandra Roy (ed.), Sarat Rachanavali (Sarat Samiti, Calcutta, Birth Centenary edition). The Rachanavali was published in five volumes during the period 1382-1384 B.E.

Rabindra Rachanavali : Rabindra Rachanavali (Government of West Bengal, Birth Centenary edition). The Rachanavali was published in fifteen volumes, the first fourteen volumes in 1368 B.E. and the last volume in 1373 B.E.

contd...

D. Chakraborty and C. Bhattacharyya (Compiled), Congress Resolutions.

