ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I am indebted to Prof. Sunil K. Munsi, Professor of Geography, Centre for Studies in Social Sciences, Calcutta for supervision, suggestion and criticism of the work.

I am also indebted to Prof. K. Bagchi, formerly Head of the Department of Geography, Calcutta University who advised me to work on the present topic.

The Indian Council of Social Science Research, New Delhi partly financed the project. Council's financial help is gratefully acknowledged.

I am also indebted to the officers of the Government of West Bengal for kindly providing data and library facilities, particularly to the Director of Agriculture, Principal Agricultural Officers, Murshidabad, Nadia and Twentyfour Parganas (North), Collectors of Murshidabad, Nadia, Twentyfour Parganas, Director of Land Records and Surveys, Officers-in-Charges, Baharampur, Beldanga, Krishnagar, Ramaghat, Bangaon and Habra of the Government of West Bengal and Librarians, National Library and West Bengal State Secretariat Library.

Words are too little to acknowledge the help of the kind-hearted people of the region.

Last but not the least, I am indebted to my family.
members who have continuously encouraged me in my work.

Sukla Dasgupta.

Department of Geography,
Calcutta University.