ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I have received guidance and help from different quarters and persons for completion of my dissertation work. I am sincerely indebted to all of them. I specially acknowledge my indebtedness to Dr. Sharmistha Chakrabarti, Reader, Department of Education, University of Calcutta for her brilliant guidance, constant encouragement, inspiration and support in each and every step without which I could not have brought it to successful culmination. I also express my gratitude to her family members for creating congenial working environment.

Words can not adequately express my indebtedness to Dr. Amiya Biswas, Ex-Reader, Rahara Ramakrishna Mission because he took very keen personal interest in the progress of this research work. I express my gratitude to Professor Swapan Pramanik, Department of Sociology, University of Calcutta for his constant support and encouragement.

I acknowledge my deep indebtedness to Dr. S. Sen Roy, Department of Statistics, University of Calcutta, who helped me in many ways, specially for the analysis of data and to Professor P.K. Chakrabarti, Department of Education, University of Calcutta and Dr. S. Chatterjee, Ex-Director, State Council of Educational Research and Training, West Bengal because they rendered their valuable suggestions for the development of the tools of the present research study.

I express my gratitude to H. Gun, Ex-Head, Department of English, F.C. College, K.D. Banerjee, Dr. P. Giri, Director, Centre for Urban Economic Studies, University of Calcutta, Dr. M.M. Chel, Principal, Bagajatin Sammilani Mahavidyalaya who helped me in various ways to carry out the research work. I am thankful to Dr. H.K. Dasgupta, Principal, Berhampur Union Christian Training College, Murshidabad for helping me in the collection of data from Murshidabad district.

The researcher would also like to remain thankful and grateful to those teachers, head-teachers, students and parents who smilingly volunteered themselves for providing data and helping in the collection of data for the present study. Thanks are also due to those eminent scholars, authors and editors whose research works, articles, journals, literatures, books, etc. helped the researcher.

I am thankful to the librarians and library staff of Alipore Campus Library and Central Library, University of Calcutta; National Library, Kolkata; American Centre Library, British Council Library, Kolkata; Indian Council of Social Science Research, Kolkata; Indian Institute of Management, Joka, Kolkata; Technical Teachers’ Training Institute, Kolkata; National Council of Educational Research and Training, Delhi and National Institute of Educational Planning and Administration, Delhi for providing me valuable assistance in library work.

I acknowledge my deep indebtedness to the University Authority for financial support by providing me University Research Fellowship which helped me a lot in completing this research work.

For typing this dissertation I appreciate the effort made by Dipankar Chatterjee and Mukul for the meticulous care they exercise. I must record my feeling of appreciation to Kusumita Pal, Indrani Nath, Santoshi Halder, Mahuya Biswas, Srabanti Mukhopadhyay, Anita Choudhuri and Indrani Sur, Research Scholars under Dr. S. Chakrabarti for their numerous help during the present study. I am also thankful to Ujjal Bhuin, Research Scholar, Department of Sociology, Calcutta University for his kind help.

I am specially indebted to my parents, uncles, father-in-law, mother-in-law, brothers, sisters and other members of my family who inspired and helped me a lot in completing this thesis. I am grateful to Mrs. Sandhya Biswas and Mrs. Manjushri Basu from whom I received sympathy and motherly affection. I am also thankful to Dr. N.C. Maiti who always treated me as his younger brother and stood by me and shared my worries. I shall be failing in my duty if I do not pay thanks to my wife, Aziza and my son, Ankur for their loving support.
