ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

This research work will create active interest to different people of India and throughout the world also. I have worked out my Ph.D. thesis titled 'Political and Journalistic Ideas of Subhas Chandra Bose' under the supervision of Prof. (Dr.) Tapati Basu, Former Dean, Head of the Dept. Journalism and Mass communication, University of Calcutta, Kolkata. I express my immense gratitude to her. She had been an unfailing guide and philosopher at every step of my work.

My sincere thanks are also due to Late Captain Biswajit Dutta of Bengal Volunteers (B.V.), a freedom fighter and an associate of Subhas Chandra Bose. I am also grateful to Late P.K. Sengupta, the then Secretary of Justice Mukherjee Commission of Enquiry (JMCI); Shri N.C. Panja and Shri C.M. Chatterjee of JMCI.

My acknowledgement must also go to the academicians, authors and experts on Subhas Chandra Bose in India and abroad.
Being a student of Journalism and Mass Communication, I have started my idea to establish the concept of journalistic background of Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose, for which I am grateful to get several information from the following Institutions:

1. National Library, Kolkata
2. State Archives, Government of West Bengal
3. National Archives, New Delhi
4. Netaji Institute for Asian Studies Library, Kolkata
5. Calcutta University Central Library, Kolkata
6. Netaji Research Bureau, Kolkata
