There comes a time in the life of a man when he has to sit back and take a look around him. In the stream of life he finds some favoring him in his effort to achieve a goal, some static and some providing a natural resistance. He has to take everything in his stride and move on unfazed, in this continuous flow of the stream of life, until he reaches his goal. Then comes that rare moment of epiphany – a moment, when he is finally able to look beyond appearances and finally acknowledge gratefully the invaluable assistance extended to him by his well – wishers during a very vital phase in his life.

I hereby express my deep sense of gratitude and sincere thanks to Prof. Sanjay Sen, Department of Applied Mathematics, University College of Science and Technology, University of Calcutta and Prof. Satyabrata Pal, Department of Agricultural Statistics, Bidhan Chandra Krishi Viswavidyalaya, for their valuable guidance and continuous encouragement at every stage of my work. I also thank them for placing at my disposal all the necessary materials without which it would have been extremely difficult to carry out my work.

I wish to express my sincere thanks to the Head of the Department of Applied Mathematics for providing me with all the necessary facilities for carrying out this work. I also thank all the faculty members for being always by my side as and when I needed their astute aegis, essential for appreciating this study.

I am also very much thankful to all the staff of the Dept. of Applied Mathematics, University of Calcutta for their sincere co-operation in completing my work.

I am extremely grateful to River Research Institute, Irrigation and Waterways Department, Government of West Bengal, for giving me the opportunity and permission to complete the work.
This acknowledgement would remain incomplete if I do not acknowledge the role of my office colleagues who bore with me patiently during my period of research.

I confess my special gratitude to my little daughter Miss Gargi. I also take this opportunity to thank my wife Smt. P. De for helping me with my manuscript and for her unstinted support and encouragement throughout the period of my research. I am also grateful to numerous friends and well wishers who did their best to help me in their own way.

Sincere thanks are also due to all authors and organization whose papers, articles have been used for completing this study.
