Acknowledgements

My first and foremost thanks go to Professor Jharna Sanyal who has not only continuously supervised my work but has also guided me through the labyrinths of this project. She has provided all sorts of help required to complete this research which has demanded tremendous effort from both sides. She has truly become my friend, philosopher and guide in personal as well as my research work.

I also thank the Managing Committee of my school for giving me the permission to pursue my educational endeavours. I also thank my colleagues who not only have supported me but also borne the pressure of work during my absences which were necessary for this work. They have been of immense help without which it would have been extremely difficult for me to complete the work.

I finally thank my family and friends who have also suffered a lot for me, doing some of the necessary household work which I generally take upon me as my sole responsibility. My special thanks go to my children who were deprived a lot because they missed their father in many of their enjoyments.