It is a well-known fact that no research work is completely the work of the researcher whose name is listed on this page. Every work is combination of spiritual and social help and the unnamed author of this research work. The unnamed authors are those who have done pioneering work in helping me to complete my research work successfully.

At the outset, I bow my head to the lotus feet that showered his blessings and grace on me by giving the determination, strength and ability to endure to the end of this project. The desire to make a difference has been the driving force to start my Ph.D research, but along the road I have also increasingly enjoyed the scientific aspects of it. This thesis could not have been written without the people around me.

I am extremely grateful to Dayalbagh Educational Institute, for all I received, during my stay of four years in this Institute. My personality has been definitely changed and shaped only because of great enthusiastic, disciplined and academic environment of DEI. Wonderful student teacher relationship of DEI led me to the height where I am now. I gratefully thank to Prof. P. K. Kalra, Director DEI, Agra and the other authorities of the institution for all their support and co-operation.

I wish to record my words of thanks to my PhD supervisor Prof. Ira Das, Head, Department of Psychology, for her continuous support in my study and research. She very patiently kept on motivating me and empowering me with her immense knowledge. Her insightful comments and constructive criticism at different stages of my research is what kept me going.

My special thanks to Prof. Sanjeev Swami, Dean, Faculty of Social Science who allowed me to carry out the research work by providing the necessary facilities.

I am also obliged to all my teachers who gave me opportunities to discuss matters from time to time for making this endeavor a success and especially to Prof. (Ms.) S.P. Sinha, Professor Emeritus, Prof. (Mrs.) Surila Agarwala, Professor Emeritus, Dr. P. K. Mona, Dr. Kamaljeet Sandhu, Dr. Preet Kumari, Dr. Kavita Kumar and Dr. Archana Satsangi, Department of Psychology, DEI.
I owe my most sincere gratitude to Mr. H. S. Srivastava for lending me timely support and kind encouragement at every stage. I expand my thanks to Mrs. Sunita Saxena and Mrs. Preetam Raj for being so co-operative and providing all the necessary material at every stage of my research.

I am thankful to the librarian and all the library staff of DEI, Central Library (Agra), DSVV, Haridwar and NIMHANS, Bangalore for providing me an opportunity to consult the latest journals, books and freely use of online facility.

My heartiest thanks go to the Head and Staff of all those colleges and universities, who allowed me to collect data and also helped me during the process.

I express my heartfelt gratitude to my Parents (Mr. D. R. Anand & Mrs. Prakash Kumari Anand) “for making me what I am today”! Their contribution in my life is beyond measure. Their kind, motivating words, prayers, blessings ‘Kept me going’ in moments of despair and anxiety when the task almost appeared impossible and beyond my ability.

Finally, I would like to thank my sister Mrs. Bhawana Kastwar who supported me in all my pursuits and support to achieve my privileged education. She has always been the guiding and motivating force in my life and no amount of “Thank You” will suffice! Just be with me the way you have been, with all your immense love, affection and blessings! I also express my thanks to my brother-in-law Mr. Arun Kastwar and my niece Shyambhawi & my nephew Manit for the source of strength during the entire course of research study.

I would like to express my heartfelt thanks to my brother Mr. Dheeraj Anand and my sister-in-law Mrs. Rajni Anand, my younger sister Ms. Namrata Anand and brother Mr. Jitesh Anand. The optimism and confidence they have is contagious and motivational for me, even during tough times in the Ph.D. pursuit. I will always remain indebted to all of them. Thank you for being supportive and caring.

My most special thanks to Dr. Shraddha Sharma for their continuous concern and relevant discussions throughout my Ph.D. work. It is a pleasure to say thanks to Mr. Shailendra Pratap and Ms. Poonam Sharma for their friendship, emotional support during this process and for being there always.
I am thankful to University Grants Commission, New Delhi for all the financial support in the form of Research Fellowship availed to me during the course of this work.

I also thank my friends S. Goutami, Prachi Sharma, Khusboo and Preeti Manani who helped me at the time of completion of my research work. I owe considerable gratitude to Mr. Amit for the neat printing of the thesis.

At the end I thank all who have directly or indirectly helped me during the course of the research work and whose names are not added individually in the list.

I finish with a final silence of GRATITUDE to ALMIGHTY

(Himani Anand)