TABLE OF CONTENTS

Chapter 1: Introduction ........................................................................................................3

1.1 Theoretical Framework 3
1.2 Importance and Objective of the study 5
1.3 Organisation of the study 8

Chapter 2: Risk Episodes and Evolution of Supervisory Control ......10

2.1 Introduction 10
2.2 Contemporary Risk Scenario 11
2.3 Lessons from Recent Risk Generated Financial Disasters 14
2.4 Types of risks 17
2.5 Risk Regulation 20

   2.5.1 Formation of Bank of International Settlement 21
   2.5.2 Formation of Basel I Capital Accord 23
   2.5.3 Formation of Basel II Capital Accord 26

2.6 Basel Norms: A Critical Evolution 31

Chapter 3: The Present State of Art ...............................................................32

3.1 Major Directions of Research 32
3.2 Theoretical Researches/Innovations 33
3.3 Empirical Studies – General 35
3.4 Indian Context 38
3.5 Summary 40

Chapter 4: Research Methodology.................................................................41

4.1 Introduction 41
4.2 Market Risk - Application of different Value at Risk Models and Backtesting of the Model 41
4.3 Credit Risk - Validation of Credit Rating Model 56
4.4 Extreme Value Theory - Application of Peaks Over Threshold (POT) Method 57

Chapter 5: Empirical Results: Application of different Value at Risk Models and Backtesting of the Model.........................................................61

5.1 Background of the study 61
5.2 Analytical framework of the study 61
5.3 Data sources 63
5.4 Methodology and Derivation of Empirical Results 63
5.5 Summary 79

Chapter 6: Empirical Results: Validation of Credit Rating system......81

6.1 Background of the study 81
6.3 Data sources 82
6.4. Methodology & Derivation of Empirical Results 82

Chapter 7: Empirical Results: Application of Peaks Over Threshold Method (POT) of Extreme Value Theory ..........................87

7.1. Background of the study 87
7.2. Analytical framework of the study 88
7.3 Data Sources 93
7.4 Methodology & Derivation of Empirical Results 93
7.5. Summary 100

Chapter 8: Concluding Observations ........................................101

Abbreviations ...........................................................................105

Bibliography: ............................................................................106
