CONTENTS

1 : Title i
2 : Acknowledgement iii
3 : Abstract xxlii

CHAPTER I : INTRODUCTION : 01-13
1.1 Introduction 02
1.2 Conceptual Backdrop 05
1.3 Scope of the Study 13

CHAPTER II : HISTORICAL PERSPECTIVE : 14-39
2.1 Psychological developments in the field 16
2.2 Physiological Developments 25
2.3 Socio - economical Development 33

CHAPTER III : REVIEW OF LITERATURE : 40-77
3.1 Studies in the field of Education 45
3.2 Studies on Stress and Personality 49
3.3 Studies on the field Stress and Coping Strategies 51
3.4 Studies on External Environmental Factors and the Life Style 54
3.5 Stress and Disease 58
3.6 Studies on Stress and Physiology 60
3.7 Studies on Stress at the Organisation 65
3.8 Studies conducted on Female Workers 75
CHAPTER IV: RESEARCH METHODOLOGY:

4.1 The Problem 79
4.2 The Main Aims of the Study 81
4.3 Operational Definitions of the Terms 81
4.4 Hypotheses and Assumptions 83
4.5 Tools used for the Study 89
4.6 Procedure for the Study 104
4.6A Pilot Study 105
4.6B Final Study 110
4.7 Sample Description 113

CHAPTER V: RESULT AND DISCUSSION:

5.1 Organisational role stress (ORS) of the academic managers 125
5.2 Factors Intrinsic to the Job of Academic Managers 130
5.3 Organisational Role Stress and the Institutional Profile 145
5.4 Organisational Role Stress and the Socio-demographic profile 160
5.5 Organisational Role Stress and Life Style 166
5.6 Organisational Role Stress and the Health Status 171
5.7 Organisational Role Stress and the Personality Profile 181
CHAPTER VI: DISCUSSIONS ON FINDINGS OF THE STUDY: 237-288

6.1 Findings in relation to the Organisational Role Stress experienced by AMHE 239
6.2 Findings in relation to Intrinsic Job Stressors at higher educational institutions 242
6.3 Findings on the ORS in relation to the Institutional Profile 249
6.4 Findings in relation to the ORS and the socio-demographic profile of AMHE 253
6.5 Findings related to the Organisational Role Stress and Life Style of AMHE 255
6.6 Finding in relation to the Organisational Role Stress and the Health Status of AMHE 257
6.7 Finding in relation to the Organisational Role Stress and the Personality Profile 261
6.8 Findings on the Organisational Role Stress and Conflict management Styles 265
6.9 Findings on Organisational Role Stress and the Motivational Needs of AMHE 267
6.10 Findings on Organisational Role Stress and Coping Styles 272
6.11 Findings on Coping Strategies and the Health Status of AMHE 274
6.12 The Case – Study Presentation 278
6.13 Summary 287

CHAPTER VII : SUMMARY AND CONCLUSIONS : 289-301
7.1 Main Findings of the Study 292
7.2 Conclusion 295
7.3 Limitations and Recommendation 296
7.4 Scope for future studies 299

CHAPTER VIII : BIBLIOGRAPHY 302-317

CHAPTER IX : APPENDIX 318-352