ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I bow in reverence to the Almighty God whose gracious blessing gave me the required courage and devotion to complete my task.

Life is long journey, full of many achievements and aimed goals. To do any big job, one requires the motivation, inspiration and co-operations of many hands. And doing research for Ph.D is a challenge and a delicate task. Today when I came for the culmination, I thank of many words and many hands that forced me to move forward and helped me to learn many innovative experiences of life and the time it took me to write this thesis.

Words inadequate to express my sense of gratitude and indebtedness which I owe to my teacher and supervisor Professor Ashok Mittal, Department of Economics, A.M.U. Aligarh who with his perspective and discerning guidance inbued me to carry out this present study. I stand grateful for his profuse encouragement, pertinent suggestions and invaluable comments during each course of discussion, which were a source of inspiration. His profound knowledge, cheerful patience and genuine concern has drawn great admiration. It has been a pleasure being a student with him.

I feel immense pleasure to express my thanks to Professor Simrit Kaur, Faculty of Management Science, Delhi University, Delhi for her help and suggestion without which I would not have done an econometric analysis.

I am thankful to Professor Nisar Ahmad, Chairman, Department of Economics, A.M.U. Aligarh who with his experience and knowledge, encouraged and directed me in the right path of the study. I express my deep sense of gratitude to all my teachers for their support and blessing.
My heartily thanks to Ms. Harpreet Kaur, Assistance Professor, Department of Economics, Sri Guru Govind Singh College of Commerce, University of Delhi, Delhi for teaching me the logit model and interpretation of the results. She always responded to my phone calls cheerfully which a rare quality which I acknowledged here.

I am also thankful to Seminar Librarian Mr. Bunyed Ali Khan for his support and blessing. I am also thankful to administrative staff of the Department of Economics, A.M.U., especially Mr. Aquil Ahmad and Mr. Gazanffar for their support and cooperation as and when required.

Mere words fail to express my appreciation to my parents and family who were the real source of my motivation, inspiration and constant encouragement. Their continues support and encouragement were the instrumental for the successful completion of my research. I also express my gratitude to my family- in- law specially my sister-in-law for their support encouragement throughout this venture. Here the support, encouragement and patience of my husband Mr. Mohammad Anas are acknowledged.

Last but not the least I want to acknowledge my beloved son Mohammad Ilhaan for his ignorance during my research work.

I would also like to acknowledge my friends and colleges Qamar Alam, Jyoti, Abbas, Seher, Muzna, Ishrat for their motivation and support during the research period.

Lastly, I owe gratitude to so many people whose cooperation and kindness is gratefully acknowledged.
