ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

In this world, nothing is possible without the will of the Creator of this universe, The Almighty ALLAH.

First and foremost, I would like to mention my endless gratitude to Almighty Allah, the most beneficent and most merciful, who blessed me with the patience and strength to accomplish this research work. I would like to express my deep sense of gratitude to my teacher and supervisor Dr. Naushad Ali P.M., Associate Professor, Department of Library and Information Science who, despite of his arduous academic work and personal commitments, always provided me the required guidance, support and encouragement during the whole course of my research period. Being an expert in E-learning and Information Technology, he always helped me to understand and analyze the problems involved in this study. He was always there for me as a motivator and instructor during the course of study. Besides academics, he exemplified himself to me as a representative of morality, respect, values, obligation and punctuality. Undoubtedly, this formidable task would not have accomplished without his nonstop guidance, encouragement, support and inspiration.

I, sincerely express my sense of gratitude and appreciation to Prof. Shabahat Husain, Chairman, Department of Library and Information Science and Dean, Faculty of Social Sciences, for providing all the necessary facilities during the whole course of my study. My profound gratitude, sincere and earnest respect is also due to Mr. S. Mustafa Zaidi and other teachers namely Dr. Sudharma Haridasan, Dr. Masoom Raza, Dr. Nishat Fatima and Dr. Mehtab Alam Ansari for their valuable suggestions and cooperation whenever required.

A great deal of understanding, fortitude, cooperation and untiring help by the non-teaching staff of the department namely Messrs Riaz Abbas, Saba Nasreen, Zahid, Shariq, Asif, Joshi, Gulrez, Shams-u-zaman and Basant is highly appreciated. I cannot forget the appreciation, encouragement, inspiration and nonstop help of Dr. Abdul Majid Baba, University Librarian, Allama Iqbal Library, University of Kashmir who helped me with his fanatical knowledge whenever I approached him.

I owe a word of gratitude to Dr. Sumeer Gul for his fruitful suggestions and valuable time whenever required. My special thanks are also due to the Faculty members, e-learning proficient staff members and students of the universities under study for their timely cooperation in providing the necessary data for compilation of this thesis. This research thesis would unquestionably bear the impression of love and affection of my family members.

My expressions do not seem to be strong enough to mark the most appropriate words of my devotion to my parents. Indebtedness is beyond words to my Father Mr. Sheikh Riyaz Ahmad and Mother Mrs. Manzoora, who have never missed any breath without praying for my success. My word of gratitude is also due to my maternal Grand Father and Grand Mother, Maternal Uncle and Aunt, who have been the pillars of my strength all the way. I feel short of words to express my feelings of love to my brothers, Er. Junaid and Zubair and Sister Lubna, from the core of my heart whose everlasting cooperation made me energetic and enthusiastic to make this dream of my ‘Doctorate’ a reality.

This thesis will not be complete without the mention of all those good friends, who stood by me during the course of study despite of their own circles of life. My heartily thanks goes beyond limits to Dr. Aijaz-ul-haq, Mir Suhail Hamid, Basharat, Muzamil Ahmad Dar, Dr. Muzamil Mushtaq, Dr. Hilal Ahmad and all those, who rendered a helping hand with pleasant smile. They were the gifts from God and firm pillars of encouragement throughout my research study.

There are no boundaries of feelings and gratitude to many other persons whom I have not been able to mention due to limitation of space. I offer my sincere thanks to all of them. I hope that this research effort makes a substantial and original contribution to online learning in Library and Information Science in general and modernizing education in particular.
