This study on “Role of Mutual Funds in Indian Financial Market” is definitely not the exclusive product of the researcher but several persons have contributed towards this end. I feel indebted to all those authors and researchers whose thoughts and studies have been helpful to me in developing theoretical framework of mutual funds on which this study is based on. Though it is not possible to mention these names in an exhaustive manner, the prominent ones have been recognized in the form of bibliography.

The gracious praise and profound thanks are due to Dr. R. S. Singh, Reader, Faculty of Commerce, Udai Pratap Autonomous College, Varanasi, whose constant guidance, inspiration and encouragement enabled me to steer across the snags which came in carrying out this thesis. I also express my deep sense of gratitude and indebtedness to Dr. O. P. Singh, Principal, Udai Pratap Autonomous College, Varanasi for his permission and co-operation for this study on the mutual funds. Further, thanks are also due to Dr. Awadhesh Singh, Head, Faculty of Commerce, of the college for his valuable suggestion during the entire phase of this study. I would like to extend my sincere thanks to Dr. G. S. Rathore, Dean, Faculty of Commerce for his valuable suggestions and advices during the entire phase of the study.

In the preparation of this thesis, I have received guidance and assistance from several academicians, practicing finance managers, Analysts and I wish to express my sincere appreciation for their contribution. I owe special debt to my parents and wife whose boundless love, affection and care, an ideal atmosphere at home dedication and tireless effort both at professional and personal fronts have been instrumental in initiation and successful completion of my research endeavor.
