I owe my deepest sense of gratitude and respect to my parents Sri Vinod Kumar Kaushik and Dr. Ambervati Kaushik for their inspiration and encouragement throughout this research work. Their continuous blessings, love and unconditional support have always been my strength.

I would like to thank and bless my daughter Ananya and my son Advik, for always cheering me up at home. I appreciate them for abiding my ignorance and their patience throughout this work.

Last but not the least, words are not enough to express my deep admiration and gratitude to my wife Archana for all the negligence that she suffered due to my odd working hours during this research work. Her continuous support, patience and understanding helped me get through this agonizing period in the most positive way.
