ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

At this moment of accomplishment, first of all I thank Allah with whose mercy and graciousness it was possible for me to carry out this study in the face of numerous hardships and difficulties.

This Ph.D. project was possible with the help and support of several people. I realised that it was in fact a teamwork that got me there. Though it will not be enough to express my gratitude in words to all those people who helped me, I would still like to give many-many thanks to all those who contributed in the success of this study.

I would like to express my sincere gratitude to my supervisor Dr. (Mrs.) Zeba Sheereen, Associate professor, Department of Economics, Women's College AMU, Aligarh, for her continuous support, patience and motivation. I am indebted to her, for giving me an opportunity to explore the topic in my own way while constantly providing me advice and guidance. At each and every point of my research work she gave me insightful feedback. Her supervision helped me a lot throughout the research tenure and writing of this thesis. I thank her for her kindness, for everything she has done in the course of the supervision of this thesis and for the incredible contribution in pursuing this research.

I am indebted to Professor Nisar Ahmad, Department of Economics, AMU, for all his co-operation, guidance and support during the course of my study. He has always made himself available to clarify my doubts despite his busy schedules and I consider it as a great opportunity to do my doctoral programme under his guidance and to learn from his research expertise. I am extremely grateful to him for all his help and support.

My study involved several visits to National University for Educational Planning and Administration (NUEPA), Delhi, for collection of relevant data and material. During the course of my work I met several people who gave me direction and necessary inspiration for my study. In this regard, first of all, I express my utter gratitude to Dr. S.M.I.A Zaidi, Professor and Head, Department of Educational Planning, NUEPA, for his unconditional help in my research work. I would like to thank Dr. (Mrs.) Yazali Josephine, Associate Professor, Department of Educational Administration, NUEPA, for her help in clearing some of my doubts. I would also like to thank J.B.G. Tilak, Senior Fellow and Head of the Educational Finance Unit, NUEPA, New Delhi, for his help in my initial stage of research work. I would also like to acknowledge the valuable assistance got from Dr. Dalip Kumar, Administrative Officer, National Council of Applied Economic Research (NCAER), New Delhi. I am also grateful to Dr. (Mrs.) Taru Jyoti Buragohain, Economist, National Council of Applied Economic Research (NCAER), New Delhi for her support in my research work.

I am thankful to the staff member of libraries of NUEPA, New Delhi, Maulana Azad Library, A.M.U. Aligarh, Jawaharlal Nehru, University, New Delhi and National Council for Educational Research and Training (NCERT), New Delhi. I am also thankful to the staff members and incharge of Seminar Library, Department of Economics, A.M.U., Aligarh.

I extend my deep gratitude to my friends, Mr. Tariq Masood, Mr. Nasim Ansari, Tamanna Khan, Bilqees Azra and Ghazala Parveen for their co-operation and encouragement during the entire research period and special thanks to Mr. Jiyaur Rahman for the help he provided at the final stage of the my research work.

At last, many thanks must also go to my family members. I am very grateful to my mother. She always lets me know that she is proud of me, which motivated me to work harder and do my best. I am thankful to my father, my brothers, brother-in-law and my sister for their help and support. My thanks are also due to my parents-in-law. Thank you very much for taking long lasting care of my daughter, without asking for anything back.

I don’t know how to thank my lovely and innocent daughter, Ramsha. I just want to say that "you gave me a new purpose of life and I’m proud to be your mother". Finally, most important thanks here go to my husband, Mr. Massarrat Abbas who has been very supportive, co-operative and patient throughout my research tenure. Being both mother and father while I was away, was not easy for him. He took every responsibility in taking care of our daughter. Thank you so much for being with me in every moment and providing me courage and strength which helped me a lot in completing my research work. I could say, without you and your support, this thesis couldn’t exist.

\[\text{\textcopyright \hspace{1em} (Andalib Zahir)}\]