Acknowledgements

Throughout my years of training as a Ph.D. student in the Department of Human Genetics, Guru Nanak Dev University, Amritsar, I have been fortunate to work with several people who not only supported my endeavors in my research activity but also aided the progression of my scientific career. I am fortunate to have been surrounded by individuals with competitive spirit and push things forward with attitude.

I owe my sincere thanks to the Department of Human Genetics, Guru Nanak Dev University, for taking me into its folds and allowing me to be a part of this legacy. I offer my profoundest gratitude to my Supervisor Prof. (Dr.) AJS Bhanwer, for his invaluable guidance, patience and unfailing support throughout the course of my Ph.D. work. His guidance not only helped me academically but also for my personal growth as an individual. He always listened to me with complete patience and motivated me during my low phases. I am grateful to him for always believing in me and trusting my decisions. He always encouraged me to do better in my life and I cannot thank him enough for being very kind to me, taking care of me very well and for all his support.

I owe a depth of gratitude to my Supervisor Dr. Subhabrata Chakrabarti, Associate Director (Research), LV Prasad Eye Institute, Hyderabad, for the continuous support during my Ph.D., for his patience, motivation and immense knowledge. He solved my enormous statistical quarries and enhances my knowledge in data analyses. He has taught me how to work and think out of the box, to stand out from all the research problems. His words allowed me to never lose my passion and enthusiasm for research. Whenever I tasted failure while performing experiments, his logical thinking, experience and suggestions always pushed me towards success.

One common thing I learned from both my supervisors is to take a stand for my decisions and to never give up in both Professional and Personal lives. I really hope I will make Bhanwer sir, and Shubo sir proud of me one day.

I am thankful to all the individuals who participated in the present study and gave their blood samples and clinical information. It is because of them I am able to learn Punjabi. My sincere thanks to the entire teams of Dr. OM Prakash Eye Hospital and Dr. Sohan Singh Eye Hospital, Amritsar for providing me blood samples and clinical information of the patients. My special gratitude to Dr. Vipin Vig, Dr. Rhibhu Soni, Dr. Ankur Goel, Dr. Rajan Bhatia, Dr. Hammad, Vikas, Sunil Bhaiya, Nimmi di, Vishal Bhaiya and Harpreet Bhaiya. My sincere thanks to Dr. Jay Chhablani, LVPEI, Hyderabad, for helping me in the evaluation of clinical data of the patients.

My efforts would not have yielded any results without the guidance of Dr. Yogesh Panday, Application Scientist, Imperial Life Sciences, Gurgaon. I learned a lot from him. His patience, suggestions and guidance helped me to do better in research. I extend my thanks to the entire team of ILS Dr. Paras, Anupama Ma’am, Satish Sir and Shyam Sir for their guidance and valuable suggestions.
Words are not enough to say thanks to Dr. Kawal Mam who guided me and helped me in my Ph.D. work and personal life. She shared so much information related to research which I will never get from any book or internet. I extend my thanks to the Head, Department of Human Genetics (Dr. Vasudha. Sambyal, Dr. Vanita and Dr. Anupam. Kaur) during the tenure of my Ph.D. I am grateful to Dr. Gursatej Gandhi, she is the one who actually introduced me into the field of research during my masters. There are so many things which I learned from her and I am still following them. In addition, I would like to acknowledge Dr. Baddarudoza for solving my enumerable statistical queries. My whole heartedly thanks to Dr. Kamlesh Guleria for critically evaluating my work, for his encouragement and motivation. He was always there for me whenever I needed his guidance. I am thankful to Dr. Manpreet and Dr. Sanjana for their wishes and words of motivation.

I express my heartfelt thanks to my Best Friend Dr. Priyanka Raina. We met in graduation, became friends in masters, best friends in Ph.D. and then she became a family for me. She is always there for me during my ups and downs. She supported me like a spinal cord during my low phases. She is always there for me to support emotionally, mentally and financially. She taught me so many good things like a friend, a sister and sometimes even like a mother. She holds the most special place in my heart and I am lucky to have her as my best friend.

My deepest thanks to my Labmates who became my Friends during the period of Ph.D. I shared so many beautiful memories with Maggi during my stay in hostel and Jasmine never made me feel that I am away from home. I can’t forget enumerable suggestions given by Harkirat for my betterment. She is one the most wonderful person I met in my entire life. I am thankful to Gagan for always bringing smile on my face and for all the Tom and Jerry fights we had. I can never forget all the Masti we had together and they all have a special place in my heart. My deepest Thanks to Dr. Jasmine Chawla for her good wishes and support. She really took care of me during the last months of my stay in Amritsar.

I extend my acknowledgement to my wonderful Labmates Dr. Rubina Sharma and Gurwinder. She is always there to help me as a senior. Her valuable suggestions and constant support throughout my Ph.D. will always be acknowledged. I will never forget all the long statistical discussions I used to have with her. I thank Gurwinder for helping me in the last phase of my sampling. I am also thankful to my seniors Dr. Yoginder Singh, Dr. Nabodita Kaul, Dr. Shivani and Savi for their valuable suggestions.

I am deeply grateful to the research scholars of the department especially Akbar Bhaiya, Naresh sir, Gurpreet di, Sarika, Bhavna di, Aarti, Vaishali, Neha and Shiwali for their well wishes and words of motivation.

I was fortunate enough to guide very smart and intelligent M.Sc students Rubina Bal and Nabeela Khan for their M.Sc dissertation. I thank them for their support and help.

Words are not enough to say thanks to my Papa & Mumma, for their support, love, prayers and counseling session to make me feel better. My father always believed in me and he supported me in both personal and professional lives. I hope one day I will make him proud of me. My mother is an inspiration for me to learn patience and peace in life. Because of her weekly dose of lectures I am able to reach here. The most important, sincere and heartfelt thanks goes to my Bhaiya, Bhabhi, Di, Jiju, Parent-in-laws and Neha Gupta for their unconditional love, support, prayers and words of motivation. I am blessed to have my Nephew (Mauu) and Niece (Bani), real stress busters of my life. Their smile makes my life easy and stress free. It is a pleasure to thank my fiancé, Dr. Himanshu Gupta, the scientist of my real life. His immense unconditional love, care and support makes my life easy. His critical suggestions and help in science encourage me to do better in research. I am greatly inspired by him for his determination towards science.

I am thankful to my beloved cousins Riya and Akanksha for their love and support. My heartfelt thanks to my Dadi (Late Smt. Kaushalya Devi), Nani, Dinu Mama, Minku Mama, Veena Mami, & Jyoti Mami for their blessings, prayers and love in my personal as well as in professional life.

I gratefully acknowledge The UGC, Govt. of India for providing me financial support under UGC-SAP (DRS-I) and UGC-UPE scheme till June, 2015. I am thankful to CSIR, Govt. of India for providing me CSIR-SRF since July, 2015 under the project entitled “Targeted genome analysis of two large diabetic retinopathy cohorts from Northern and Southern India” through grant number 27(0304)/14/EMR-II Dated: 21st November, 2014 and also to provide funds to accomplish this project. The financial assistance under the scheme of “Centre with Potential for Excellence in Particular Area” through grant number F.8-2/2008(NS/PE) (UGC, India) is deeply acknowledged.

My special thanks to almighty God for his constant presence in my life, for giving me strength to face hard times and for keeping my head down during my good times. He showers his grace to me continuously and encouraged me to become a better person.

Saying thanks costs nothing but gives everything. I am sincerely grateful to all those who have shared their truthful views with me related to my thesis work. Thank you everyone for accepting me as I am, with my qualities and flaws.

“Every time we remember to say “Thank You”. We experience nothing less than heaven on earth.”
