ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

In course of the preparation of the thesis, I received generous help from different individuals with academic and non-academic pursuits. Drawing a line of distinction among them to distinction among them to distinguish individual contributions, appears to me a difficult task because there remains possibility of omissions as well as comparisons. However, while acknowledging the help of few of them, I do not intend to depreciate or ignore the invaluable contributions of others and respectfully acknowledge their help.

I express my sincere gratitude and indebtedness to Professor Dr. Subhrangsu Shekhar Chatterji, my Respected Sir, Dean, Head and Secretary of the Department of Law, University of Calcutta, for his valuable suggestion and encouragement of my research.

I express my indebtedness to Professor Dr. I.G. Ahmed former Dean, Head, Faculty of Law, University of Calcutta for his valuable suggestions and guidance.

I shall be failing in my duties for not mentioning the help and co-operation of Dr. J.K. Das. Associate Professor, Department of Law, Calcutta University. At my tying hours, he unhasitantly offered valuable suggestion enabling me to complete my research work. Without his help it would not have been possible to complete my research work.

I recall with gratitude the suggestions and help I received from Dr. Shachi Chakroborty, Dr. Monirani Dasgupta. Associate Professor, Department of Law, University of Calcutta.

I convey my sincere gratitude to Dr. Debasis Chattopadhaya, Principal, South Calcutta law College for his constant support in every aspect of my research.

I am also thankful to Mrs. Nayna Chatterji, lecturer of South Calcutta Law College for rendering help in all matters whenever I needed.
