Acknowledgement

I carried this thesis work in Population Studies Unit of Indian Statistical Institute, Kolkata as a Junior Research Fellow (JRF) during 4th September 2006 to 3rd September 2008 and as a Senior Research Fellow (SRF) during 4th September 2008 to 3rd September 2011. It is my great privilege to have worked as a research fellow in Indian Statistical Institute. I thank the Institute for its financial and institutional support.

I am very much grateful to Dr. Prasanta Pathak and Prof. Asis Kumar Chattopadhyay, not only for their guidance and advice on the dissertation but also for their continuous encouragement during all my five year stay in Indian Statistical Institute. It has been a pleasure to work under their direction.

I also thank members of Research Assessing Faculty Committee (RAFC) of Social Sciences Division and internal experts - Prof. Anup Dewanjee and Prof. Debashis Sen Gupta of Applied Statistics Unit, Prof. Nityananda Sarkar of Economic Research Unit, Dr. Sourabh Ghosh of Human Genetics Unit, Dr. Arni Srinivasa Rao of Population Studies Unit, for their kind suggestions. Their suggestions at various steps are gratefully acknowledged. Thanks are also extended to other faculty members of the Indian Statistical Institute, especially, Prof. B. K. Sinha, Prof. Arun Kumar Adhikari, Prof. Asis Sengupta and Prof. Atanu Biswas for their excellent teaching in the course works that I have undergone. I feel really lucky to undergo research methodology course taught by Prof. S.P. Mukherjee, who has vast experience both in research and teaching.

I also would like to express my deep gratitude to all those people, discussion with whom have benefited my work. I thank Prof. Gunnar Anderson of Stockholm University and Prof. Carl P. Schemertmann of Florida State University for their criticism and suggestions on the earlier versions of my published articles. I also would like to express my thanks to my fellow researchers, particularly, Sailendra Kumar Mishra, Sanjeev Bakshi, Ravi Chandra, Sayanthan Datta, Aparajita Bakshi, Ramachandra Murthy, Kiranmoy Chatterjee and Ritabrata Bhattacharya, with whom I had fruitful discussion. The encouragement and support I received from other Population Studies Unit Staff - Sathidi, Pranatidi, Sagathadi, Mayadi, Barunda, Parthoda, Subhasda, Sarojda and Debuda are invaluable. Finally, the most important person without whom this work is impossible is my wife Sridevi. She has taken every care to me so that I remain focused on my research.
