ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS.

Grateful thanks are due to a number of people who directly and indirectly helped me in the conception and completion of this thesis.

My father Brig A.P. Datta Vrc for inspiration, courage and absolute fearlessness. With fond regards I acknowledge how much his innate gallantry, strength and uncompromising honesty have shaped my own ideas and attitudes. My mother Mrs Nanda Datta for lessons of faith, determination, tenacity and perseverance in the face of all odds. To both my parents and my brother Major Anirban Datta, I owe a debt of thanks for their love and support, for shaping my thoughts and believing in me.

With deep love and gratitude I acknowledge thanks to my abbuji Mr Zahoor Mohammad and ammi Mrs Khudeja Khatoon for their love, understanding, help, moral support and prayers at every stage of my work. Undoubtedly, without their warm support, this work could not have been completed.

I would like to thank all those who taught me at CSRD for showing how interesting, enjoyable and absorbing Geography is, and for nudging me onto the path I now tread. In this regard I thank especially, my supervisor Dr Sachidanand Sinha, for helping me to shape and develop my ideas and hone my arguments. I also thank him for his patience, guidance and encouragement throughout.

For invaluable help and support during fieldwork I would like to thank Ghafoor chaccha and Moid Bhai, Maj General K.K. Ganguly, Captain Rajeev Rawat, Smt Dhooma Devi, Satti ji, Mohan Panwar, Vidyawati, Shyama Avasti, Zebunissa and friends in Amethia Salempur, Sohra Mau, Karbari Grant and Saliyana.

I thank my friends Ranjita, Anjali and Suruchi for the debates and dissections on feminism in our little "corridor club" Sangeeta, Padmanabh, Rohan, Disha, Krishna di, Mousumi and Ranja for long uplifting discussions and tremendous moral support. Grateful thanks to Apoorva and Kalyan for always being there whenever I needed any help. Many thanks to Siyoum for moral support and help on the computer and to Kidist for timely supply of injaras and lots of moral support. Thanks also to Kuldip for last minute help.
The help and support of the staff of J.N.U library as well as staff of the libraries at Seva Bhawan, National Institute Of Health And Family Welfare and C.W.D.S. is also acknowledged.

I owe a very deep and unredeemable debt of heartfelt gratitude to my beloved sister in law Taiyaba for always, unfailingly, uncomplainingly, lovingly and cheerfully extending all manner of help and support to me at every stage of this work. She has been a constant source of strength and enthusiasm at all times.

Words can never ever express how deeply grateful I am to my husband Aslam. To him and our little son 'Zanskar' Danish -for love, patience, strength, optimism and understanding, I remain forever, happily indebted....
