ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

We all have dreams; however, in order to fulfill dreams into reality, one needs a lot of determination, dedication, self-discipline, inspiration, and effort. My inspiration for my PhD is my loving mother whose dream was to see me having highest academic degree of PhD. This thesis is an outcome of her dream. For me, a thesis is not a place to solve grudges; it is a professional document that is eternal. As such, it should be handled professionally and gracefully. The work presented in this thesis would not have been possible without my close association with many people. I take this opportunity to extend my sincere gratitude and appreciation to all those who made this Ph.D thesis possible.

I begin with thanking ‘The Almighty’, for being there in His own ‘peculiar’ ways and seeing me through times turbulent and calm.

First and foremost, I would like to extend my sincere gratitude to my research guide Dr. Hitesh D. Raviya, Associate Professor, Department of English, Faculty of Arts, The Maharaja Sayajirao University of Baroda, Vadodara, Gujarat, for introducing me to this exciting field of research and for his dedicated help, advice, inspiration, encouragement and continuous support, throughout my Ph.D. His enthusiasm, integral view on research and his mission for providing quality work, has made a deep impression on me. I have observed that for him, his students have always been his first priority and hence, I used to receive my drafts of chapters with his scholarly suggestions within a short period of time. I sincerely acknowledge his continuous support, guidance, cooperation, encouragement and for facilitating all the requirements, going out of his way. He has taught me another aspect of life, that, “goodness can never be defied and good human beings can never be denied”. I appreciate all his contributions of precious time and creative ideas to make my Ph.D. experience productive and stimulating. He has provided me the excellent example of a friend, philosopher, and guide. His spirit, sincerity and accuracy have proved to be a life-long orientation for my career, personal and professional life.
I am thankful to Dr. B. S. Patel, Vice Chancellor, Dr. M. G. Thakkar, Registrar, Dr. Tusar Hathi, Former Dean, Faculty of Arts, and Dr. Kashyap Trivedi, Dean, Faculty of Arts, of KSKV Kachchh University, Bhuj for their insightful guidance during the research.

I am also thankful to Dr. Sridhar Rajeswaran, Former Professor and Head of the Department of English, KSKV University, Dr. Balaji Rangnathan, Former Associate Professor of the Department of English and Dr. Nawal Kishor Sharma, Assistant Professor, Head of the Department of English, KSKV University for their valuable suggestions and useful tips regarding my research topic.

My express my gratitude to Prof. Dr. Jaydeepsinh Dodiya of Saurashtra University, Rajkot, for his valuable suggestions at time of finalizing the topic of my doctoral study during RDC. His Insightful suggestions opened up wide horizons of ideas and possibilities of research on the subject.

No research is possible without using library resources so how can I forget Harshadbhai, the librarian of KSKV University, Bhuj, who always happily provided me the required research resources.

Besides my academic mentors, the first person I would like to thank is my lovely daughter Heer that little soul believed in her mother and the importance of her work. It would be ungrateful on my part if I thank her in these few words. I am thankful to my daughter for giving me happiness during the toughest days of my studies. Words are really inadequate to express the depths of the kindness, encouragement and support I get from my parents, my father Mr. Surendrasinh B. Vansia and mother Mrs. Ila S. Vansia, for their belief in me, for all their love and care and for being a constant parent for my daughter. I owe a lot of gratitude to them for always being there for me. It is only their effort by looking after my darling daughter persuaded me for the successful completion of this thesis. Their patience and sacrifice will remain my inspiration throughout my life.

In this journey one man alone has held my hand all the way. It is this man's vision that has led to the completion of this work. I, therefore, express my appreciation to my husband, Rupin Magodra. I owe my deepest gratitude towards my better half for his eternal support and understanding of my goals and aspirations. His infallible love and support has always been my strength.
Without his help, compromises and generosity I would not have been able to complete much of what I have done and become who I am.

I take this opportunity to acknowledge the warmth and care of my family members: Seema, Dipak, Premdeep and Bhumika for always being there for me. Their love and understanding has inspired me to continue my work against all odds. I admit that without support, motivation and cooperation of my family, my work would not have seen the light of the day.

Research is never the product of the contribution of a person but one born out of team effort, for many people contribute to making it worthwhile. I am thankful to all my teachers, friends, and students on the campus who helped directly or indirectly in this research work. It would be ungrateful not to record the valuable inputs from fellow friend Ms. Neelam Gajjar without whose cooperation the work would have not been accomplished in due time. I take this opportunity to thank Shri Uttambhai Parmar, Secretary of Kim Education Society for providing me with free time required to get registered for Ph.D. I am also grateful to D. R. Patel and R. B. Patel Commerce College, Bhathana, Surat and my colleagues Prin. Avnindra Dixit, Prof. Rajesh Khalasi, Dr. Ashish Desai, Dr. Brijesh Patel, Dr. Mayuri Desai for their constant encouragement and moral support.

And last but not the least; it is always impossible to mention everybody who had an impact to this work however there are those whose spiritual support is even more important. I thank them all for their direct or indirect contribution.
