ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

It has been an enjoyable journey for the last three years while I pursued a research idea and witnessed it growing into reality. Registering for Ph.D. and completing the research that was undertaken was a definite value addition to my life both in terms of professional and personal growth. As this academic endeavour reaches its conclusion, it is time to remember and acknowledge the contribution of people and institutions that made this task feasible.

Dr. Arwah Madan has ably guided me through the research process. Her positive attitude and disciplined approach to study has made it possible for me to conclude this study in an efficient manner. I gratefully acknowledge the valuable guidance from Dr. Arwah Madan.

I extend my sincere thanks to the University Grants Commission for having granted me the Teacher Fellowship which enabled me to complete the research work in time.

I thank my parent institution, St.Mira’s College for Girls, Pune, and Principal Dr. G. H. Gidwani for providing academic and administrative support in full measure.

I thank Principal Dr. Nitin Ghorpade and Vice-Principal Dr. Nilesh Dangat for providing the necessary infrastructure at the research centre in Economics at Prof. Ramkrishna More College, Akurdi, Pune.

Academic resources are lifeline of research. These were made available to me by Mrs. Devinder Kaur, librarian at St. Mira’s college, Dr. Akila Ramesh, librarian at ISST, New Delhi, and Mr. Ashok Samarth from NCW. I take this opportunity to thank them wholeheartedly.
I thank Dr. Parvathi Raghuram, Dr. Shashibala and Dr. Suresh Pathare for having responded to my requests for the academic resources authored by them.

I appreciate the support and encouragement from my colleagues and friends at St. Mira’s college. A special word of thanks for Mrs. Meenal Sumant, Prof. Shalini Iyer, Dr. Soniya Chavan and Dr. Rama Venkat is in order.

I extend my sincere gratitude to all the domestic workers who formed the core of my study and who shared their time and experiences with me. I wish to thank Smt. Kiran Moghe, Smt. Medha Thatte, Adv. Sharada Wadekar and Shri. Sharad Pandit for their valuable insights.

Family is the source of strength that keeps one afloat through the eventful journey called life. My husband Viraj and son Manas have been the motivating beacons that kept me focused on the work.
