ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I wish to express my gratitude and sincere thanks to my guide Dr. Mrs. Saroj S. Virkar, Former Principal, Vidya Pratishthan’s College of Education, Baramati, Pune for her guidance, patient listening and understanding in enabling me to complete this research successfully. In spite of her busy schedule, she had always spared a lot of her precious time for my guidance.

I would like to express my appreciation and gratitude to Dr. Sanjeev Sonavane, Professor & Head Department of Education and Extension, University of Pune for inspiring me to undertake this research work.

I would also like to thank all the staff of Department of Education and Extension, University of Pune, especially Dr. D. V. Kulkarni and Dr. Megha Upalane for their time to time co-operation and guidance.

It is my privilege to thank all experts in the field of sex education, Dr. Anant Sathe, Family Planning Association of India, Pune Branch, Dr. Dipak Phalgune, Health Center, University of Pune, Dr. Mrs. Seema Sahay, Social & Behavioural Research Division, National AIDS Research Institute (NARI), Pune, Mr. Rajiv Paradesi, Department of Population Education, State Council of Educational Research and Training (SCERT), Pune for devoting their valuable time and providing me lot of information on the topic of research.

I would like to convey my heartfelt thanks to the Headmasters of Vidya Pratishthan’s high school, Baramati and New English School, Dorlewadi, for their valuable assistance and co-operation in allowing me to implement the sex education programme in their schools. I would like to convey my heartfelt thanks to the Headmaster, Chatrapati Shahu Highschool, Baramati for co-operation in conduction of the Pilot study. Thanks to the authorities of all those schools in Baramati tehasil for granting permission while conducting a survey as a part of the programme.

I am indebted to my friend Mr. Sunil Koparde, for his valuable guidance in dealing with the statistical analysis of data with the help of SPSS.

Very special thanks to the students who participated wholeheartedly in the programme and for their enthusiasm at every step which has made this experience most enjoyable and worthwhile.

Thanks to the all staff members of the Vidya Pratishthan’s College of Education, Baramati, and my present colleagues from Gokhale Education Society’s College of Education and Research, Parel, Mumbai, for their support and help. Thanks to all those who have directly or indirectly helped me in finalizing this manuscript.

Finally, were it not for the inspirations of my family, it would never have occurred to me to do this research. The encouragement and moral support of my family has made this work a stimulating and fulfilling experience. I owe each one of them a very special gratitude.

Pune

September, 2010

Mr. Chetan U. Chavan