Dedicated with reverence, to Adv. James Boswell (1740-1795)

Whose ‘The Life of Johnson, LL. D’,

Has become a source of inspiration to the modern biographers

James Boswell, 9th Lord of Auchinleck (29th October, 1740 – 19th May, 1795) was a lawyer, diarist, and writer from Edinburgh, Scotland, UK. He is best known for the biography he wrote of his preceptor and the great English literary figure Dr. Johnson famous for the compilation of ‘The Dictionary of the English Language’. The Life of Samuel Johnson, LL.D. (1791) is a biography of Dr. Samuel Johnson (1709-1784) written by James Boswell. It is regarded as an important stage in the development of the modern literary form of biography. Many critics claim it as the greatest biography written in English or any other modern language.
