Acknowledgement

My journey of the doctoral research has indeed remained memorable to me. Many people have contributed a lot leading me to this stage.

The first and the foremost, I am thankful to the Almighty for making me capable of this and for making me believe in myself. I, in fact, dedicate this whole body of work to my parents Late Smt. Vidyaben and Late Shri K. D. Pandya who must be feeling immense proud wherever they are.

The present research would not have been possible without insightful guidance of my supervisor Dr. R. K. Balyan. He has dealt with every error and query of mine with patience and diligence. Sir, thanks very much for bringing me to this stage.

I express my heartfelt gratitude to the following persons for realizing my dream of research and helping me in various phases of the work:

Kim Cameron, Associate Dean of Executive Education, and William Russell Kelly, Professor of Management & Organizations who permitted me to use his two instruments – Organizational Culture Assessment Instrument and Organizational Effectiveness, and George A. Morgan, Professor Emeritus, Education and Human Development of Colorado State University, for helping in the instrument of Individual Readiness for Change.

My thesis is fortunate for having two Krishnas Dr. Pramod Verma – friend, philosopher and guide in my entire journey, whenever I was stuck up on the topic, he showed the way and Devesh Ved without whose help I could not have completed my doctoral study.
The English language is polished by my friend Dr. Pranav Joshipura. I am thankful to him as well. I am equally thankful to Principals and Faculty members of all 30 B. Com. and B.B.A. Colleges for providing me data on whose bases is built up my research.

My family has supported me in all moments of my research. My wife Prof. Payal J. Pandya and lovable daughter Ms. Utsavi J. Pandya have lent me with persistent motivation and unexpressive support at home. My two sisters, Mrs. Manishaben Pandya and Mrs. Ragineben Adhvaryu and my two brothers-in-law Mr. Pinakinbhai Pandya and Mr. Digantbhai Adhvaryu have proved backbone for me.

And lastly, I thank all those who knowingly or unknowingly, directly or indirectly have supported me in this work.

Jayraj K. Pandya
