THE ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

No one in life can accomplish any task individually. I express my gratitude to all those persons and institutions that have contributed directly or indirectly to this dissertation.

First and foremost, I bow to the Almighty for giving me the grace, wisdom and good health to complete this thesis.

The researcher is extremely lucky in having Dr. Shangara Singh Sra as her supervisor. His scholastic aptitude and research acumen were absolutely invaluable throughout the course of investigation. His befitting words of guidance kept the researcher on right track. The researcher has no words to express her deeply felt gratitude to him.

Very special thanks are due to Dr. B. S. Arora (retired) Professor and Head, Department of Statistics, PAU, Ludhiana; Dr. (Mrs.) Gurpreet Kaur, Associate Professor, Department of Statistics, Delhi University, Delhi; Dr (Mrs.) Abha Aggarwal, Scientist E, National Institute of Medical Statistics, ICMR, New Delhi and Dr. G.S. Toateja, Scientist F, ICMR, New Delhi for their viable suggestions, statistical help and critical appraisal.

Researcher is also thankful to Mrs. Sneh Saini, Principal, GISTC, Ludhiana; Mrs. Sudesh Bajaj DEO(s) and Dr. (Mrs.) Shashi Trehan, District Science Supervisor, Ludhiana for providing expert opinion and encouragement for the smooth completion of this research.

Thanks are also generously due to Dr. (Mrs.) Ravinder Kaur, Principal, Malwa Central College of Education, Ludhiana; Dr. Khushwinder Kumar, Principal, BCM College of Education, Ludhiana and Dr. Sandeep Sawhney, Principal, Doraha College of Education, Ludhiana for providing technical assistance and guidance.

Words are not enough to express my deepest sense of gratitude to Dr. Surjit Singh Sekha, Senior Lecturer (retired), State College of Education, Jalandhar, for streaming me straight in the light of his vast and long research experience of guiding research at the Ph.D. level.

My sincere appreciation also goes to Professor G. S. Brara, Principal (retired), S.C.D Government College for Boys, Ludhiana for his constant support and encouragement.
Prayers of my mother and mother-in-law gave me spiritual strength in completing the research venture. The wishes of my sons Rishabh Soni and Jhankrit Soni proved for me true doses of confidence to work hard. I am enthusiastically grateful to my husband Dr. R. K. Soni for his reflective encouragement and co-operation. I am especially thankful to my loving brother and my loving sister who were always psychologically with me.

I am grateful to the managements /administrators of schools who allowed me to carry out this study in their schools. Principals of government and non-government schools were always there to inspire me to think deeper and deeper while providing ongoing mentorship and support. Researcher is grateful to principals and headmasters of schools selected for the study.

I would also like to express appreciation to the administrators of PAU, Ludhiana; SRM University, Chennai; KIITS University, Bhubaneswar; Madras University, Chennai; GNDU, Amritsar; Punjabi University, Patiala and Panjab University, Chandigarh for allowing me to use their libraries for this study. The researcher is also grateful to all the persons who facilitated access to the relevant books and journals at every stage of research work.

During the course of my work I remained surrounded by a galaxy of scholars, researchers and thinkers who helped me in steadily staying grounded. Last but not the least, I convey my appreciation to my colleagues and friends who really motivated me with invaluable and worth mentioning suggestions.

ANJU VERMA
Research Scholar
Faculty of Education
Guru Nanak Dev University
Amritsar, Punjab