ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

My sincere gratitude to “DIVINE GODHEADS” to Both “DIVYAJYOTIS” PARAM POOJNIYA SRI JIMMY NAGPUTHRA (YOGIRAJ) and PARAM POOJNIYA SRI GURURANI NARGIS NAGKANYA (YOGINI) for Their blessings. Completion of Ph.D has become possible with Their grace and blessings. My respectful obeisance at the Holy Lotus Feet of Both “LIVING DIVINE LIGHTS”.

To Prof. Lakshmi Lingam, Deputy Director, Hyderabad Campus, Tata Institute of Social Sciences (TISS) under whose guidance this study was conducted. I must express my sincere thanks for the help she rendered and suggestions she made on several occasions. Suave, but uncompromisingly professional, she was available for consultation whenever I needed her. Her guidance and supervision helped me to conceptualize my research study and further enhanced reasoning, logic, writing, and other academic skills. Her encouragement and support helped me to remain focused on my work and complete all Ph.D related work with complete zeal and enthusiasm.

To my mother Ms. Rani Francis and family members (my sister Ms. Aysha and niece Neha) for their continuous support throughout my research work. Without their support and encouragement I would not have maintained the zeal to complete my Ph.D.

To Prof. Anjali Monteiro, TISS and Prof. Chayanika Shah, Visiting Faculty, TISS for being a part of Doctoral Advisory Committee (DAC). I thank them wholeheartedly for their valuable inputs and suggestions throughout my research study.

My sincere gratitude to Reiki. As a Reiki practitioner I’ve always used Reiki as a channel to deal with stress and manage my emotional balance during my Ph.D tenure. Reiki as a positive energy has guided me to internalize and pursue my research study in a spiritual manner.
To Dr. Venkatesan Chakrapani for informing me about Ph.D admission in TISS. Thanks to him for introducing me to Prof. Asha Banu S.L., TISS.

To Prof. Asha Banu S. L., TISS for being a discussant during my Ph.D dissertation proposal presentation. I am grateful to her for accepting my invitation and for giving valuable inputs for the research study.

To Dr. Anitha Chettiar, Lecturer, Director of CHIRAG Project, College of Social Work, Nirmala Niketan for being a discussant during my Ph.D synopsis presentation. I am grateful to her for accepting my invitation and for giving valuable inputs.

To Ms. Sabala Singh and Ms. Kranti for introducing me to Prof. Lakshmi Lingam.

Thanks to my sponsors Mr. P. N. Devarajan, Centre for Social Initiative and Management (CSIM), Chennai, Mr. B. R. Shetty, Mr. G. R. Khairnar and all others who have provided technical and financial support during my Ph.D tenure. Thanks to all sponsors for extending timely financial help.

To Ms. Jayanthi (Jayanthi didi), Chennai for her support and well-wishes throughout my Ph.D tenure. As a Reiki practitioner she has opened Reiki channels for me many times. Her encouragement has helped me to think positively through difficult times.

To Ms. Latha Suresh, Chennai for giving her reference letter required for my Ph.D admission in TISS. I am thankful to her for all her support and co-operation.

To Prof. Sujatha Ramanathan, Stella Marie’s College, Chennai (my M.Phil guide) for giving reference letter for my Ph.D admission in TISS. I am thankful to her for all her support and co-operation and encouraging me to continue my research study.

My special thanks to my close friend Ms. R. Jeeva, Managing Trustee, Transgender Rights Association (TRA), Chennai. She had been instrumental in introducing me to various key respondents and stakeholders in and across Tamil Nadu. I am grateful to her for all help and support. She dedicated her time and efforts during my data collection process in Tamil Nadu.
Thanks to Prof. Gautam Yadama (Ambassador to TISS), and Prof. James Wertsch, Director, McDonnell International Scholars Academy from Washington University in St. Louis, U.S. for their support and guidance during my Student Exchange Programme tenure at the University. Prof. Yadama as my advisor at the University had been very helpful during my visit to the U.S. I am grateful to him for helping me preparing my Ph.D dissertation proposal during the Student Exchange Programme.

My gratitude to the faculty members Prof. Carolyn Lesorogol, Prof. Shefali Chandra, Prof. Linda Nicholson, Prof. Amy Cislo, Prof. Alexis Matza, Prof. Carolyn Sargent, Prof. Susan Stiritz, Prof. Shanti Parikh, Prof. Susan Stiritz, and Prof. Adrienne D. Davis from Washington University in St. Louis, U.S. for all their comments and valuable inputs on my research topic and for guiding me in drafting my Ph.D dissertation proposal.

To Ms. Manisha Gupte for introducing me to Ms. Nirmala Sathe and Ms. Manisha Sathe during my visit to St. Louis. I am thankful to both Ms. Sathe for their hospitality showed during my visit to their house.

To Ms. Sayani Pan who shared the apartment in St. Louis, U.S. during my Student Exchange Programme with Washington University in St. Louis. Thanks for her understanding nature and support and co-operation.

My sincere gratitude to Ms. Lata Krishnan, (Late) Ms. Selvi Mami, Ms. Smiling Vidya, Ms. Sarah Karunakaran, and Ms. V. K. Amirthavalli for making accommodation arrangements during my stay in Tamil Nadu during my data collection.

My sincere thanks to Ms. Maria Sundin, Sweden for being supportive as a friend and well-wisher.

Thanks to all conference organizers International Congress on Gender Identity and Human Rights, Barcelona, Spain; Trans*tagung Berlin Conference 2010, Berlin, Germany; 3rd European Transgender Council 2010, Malmo, Sweden; The 2nd AsiaPacific Outgames Human Rights Conference, Wellington, New Zealand; 22nd WPATH Biennial Symposium, Atlanta, U.S.; 11th Annual Philadelphia Trans-Health Conference, Philadelphia, PA, U.S.; Queer Thoughts, Kolkata, India for giving me a full scholarship to attend the conferences and for giving an opportunity to present my Ph.D research work.

My sincere thanks to all respondents. Without their support and co-operation I would have not got rich field experiences.

I might have missed some important names. I am thankful to all those who have played an important role throughout my Ph.D tenure. It is because of all their love, encouragement, support and co-operation that boosted energy to successfully complete my Ph.D related activities.

Thanks to Indian Council of Social Science Research (ICSSR), New Delhi, India for providing Doctoral Fellowship during the period 2010-2011 and 2011-2012.
