ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

It is never possible to finish anything involved with a lot of work and attention, without the help of numerous people. I could not have finished my thesis but for the enormous help and encouragement shown towards me and my work, by numerous people, who are very important to me and will be cherished for ever in my heart.

Firstly, it goes beyond words for me to express my gratitude to my supervisor Dr. V.B.N.S. Madduri. He was and is not only my supervisor, but a friend as well, and a sounding board for new ideas and he shared many of my frustrations and difficulties not only during the course of Ph.D. work, but right from my post-graduate days. But for his support, encouragement and admonitions, this work would not have been completed. Thank you very much Sir.

I would be failing in my duty if I do not thank my professors and teachers who were instrumental in making Economics not only a subject that I love, but also to make it possible for me to understand the intricacies of the subject. Here, I would like to thank my very first informal Economics teacher, my sister.

Thanks to my professors at the University of Hyderabad, who made me look at Economics in a different light - the mathematical way, and to look into the application of economics to other fields. Thanks to the office staff of the Department of Economics, who were very helpful at all times.

Thanks are due to the staff of the Indira Gandhi Memorial Library, University of Hyderabad for their support and help whenever required. Heartfelt thanks to the librarian and other staff members of ICRISAT library, who were very helpful in finding data, books and articles and putting up with my constant demands on their time. A special word of thanks to the librarian of Administrative Staff College of India, Hyderabad, Mr. Gopalakrishnan for his timely help, which was at a very crucial time.

I would like to thank Mr. B. Anil Kumar of Tata Energy Research Institute, New Delhi, who guided me in the right direction in a strange city. Thanks also to the staff members of the TERI library, especially to Ms. Dipika. Thanks to the librarian of Nehru Museum and Memorial Library, New Delhi, and also to Mr. Mandal of the same library for their timely help. Thanks are due to the librarian of National Council for Applied Economic Research library, New Delhi, especially in making available xerox and data in a very short time. Thanks to Mr. Damodaran, CGO Complex, New Delhi for his time and ideas on rural energy, which were very helpful.

Heartfelt and grateful thanks to Mr. Nanda Kumar, Mr. Girish and Mr. Suresh in making my stay in New Delhi a convenient one, and their help when it was needed most. Thanks to Mrs. Rekha, who in spite of not being well, looked after us very well. Thanks to Mr. Saji George Titus of PTI, New Delhi, for his guidance and encouragement.

Many many thanks once again to Mr. Ramesh Ragi of Digitech, Hyderabad, for his crucial and timely help in providing me with a computer with the minimum of trouble, and for the encouragement at all times. Thanks to Mr. J. Subrahmanyam and Mr. Gangaji of Computer Center, HCU, for their help, encouragement, concern and words of advice.

It is almost impossible for me to thank my friend Usha Johnson enough, whose help, encouragement and support went much beyond the realms of friendship. Her help and support at all times were a constant source of sustenance to me. Thanks to Juby for his encouraging words. Heartfelt thanks to all the members of Usha’s family, especially her in-laws, mother, Prince and Denny for making me feel at home in their house and welcoming me at all times and treating me as one of their family member.

But for the support and encouragement of my friends I would not have proceeded with my work and completed it. Thanks a lot to my friends Srinivas, Sandhya, Angelina, Usha Ramchandra, Rama, Thai, Seshu, Zehra, Safia, and Pushpa for their constant positive attitude and encouragement. A special thanks for my juniors, Venky, Jeevan Jyothi and Jyoti Mehra for their constant encouragement and their tremendous confidence in my ability.

A really special word of thanks to my sister-in-law, Nalini, for her constant encouragement, help and support at all times without reservations. Thanks to my wonderful brother Dr. Rajendra Kumar whose help, practical words and attitude always kept me on the ground, and in touch with reality. Thanks to my one-in-a-million sister and brother-in-law, who were always encouraging, and their words of advice were a constant source of strength to me throughout my career. Thanks to my cute nephew Aditya who makes life sweeter just by his very presence. Heartfelt thanks to my Chinnanna, Chinnamma and my cousins, Subhash and Yuga for their encouragement and concern.

Last but definitely not the least thanks to my wonderful mother and father, without whose blessings, help and encouragement, I would not have been able to do anything. I do not have enough words to express my gratitude to them. I can only say, Mummy, Daddy, Thanks A Lot.

P. V. PRATIBHA