CONTEN

Acknowledgement i-ii

Abbreviations v

Introduction 1-20

Part One: The prospects
Chapter I Patna: the nucleus, 21-46
An account of the city in the seventeenth and early Eighteenth century

• The region, land and water ways, climate and natural hazards
• Natural and agro based resources
• Mode of resource use
• Conflicts and cooperation in resource use

Chapter II The composition, Lives and Beliefs systems of 47-66
the people

• The settlement and the structure of population
• Belief system, popular cults and fallacy
• The coming of the English and their life in Bihar

Part Two: The Problems
Chapter III Business Politics: The English and the ruling groups 67-99

• Trading grants and concessions
• Interpretation of trading grants and concessions
• Monopolization and forceful ejection
• War of successions, revolts and threat of force

Chapter IV Company and its Commerce in Bihar 100-122

• Investments and financing the trade
• Production and procurement of exportable goods
• Merchant groups of Bihar and the company
• Rivals in trade: private British traders, the Dutch
And the French
Part Three: The Strategies

Chapter V  Collaboration, Conflict and Domination: Politics and trade  123-139
- Paying of gifts and peshkash
- Adaptation to local customs and culture
- Threat and use of force, war
- Battle of Plassey and the English domination

Chapter VI  Partnership, Competition and Monopolization: Commerce and trade, part I  140-160
- Procurement of trading grants and concessions
- Generation of local funds for investments
- Procurement of goods for export and sell of English goods

Chapter VII  Partnership, Competition and Monopolization: Commerce and trade, part II  161-183
- Growth of English trade and commerce
- Private British traders and rival European companies
- Indigenous merchants and the English company
- Monopolization and subordination

Conclusion  184-190
Bibliography  191-206
Select Glossary  207-210

Photographs
Maps