ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The author first express deep sense of gratitude to his Research Supervisor, Dr. P. Srinivasan, Head & Assistant Professor, Department of Physics, University College of Engineering, Panruti, for his benevolence, affirm guidance and inspiration.

The author places a special word of gratitude to his Doctoral Committee members, Dr. D. Arivuoli, Professor, Crystal Growth Centre, Anna University, Chennai and Dr. R. Rameshbabu, Assistant Professor of Physics, School of Physics, Bharathidasan University, Tiruchirappalli for their encouragement and valuable discussions.

The author sincerely thanks to Dr. R. Nagalakshi, Dr.S. Prabu and Dr.R. Thilakkumar for scholarly assistance, encouragement and cordiality throughout the course of his research. The author has pleasure in acknowledging to Dr. A. Senthil Kumar, Dean of UCEP, Panruti, Mrs. S. Rajalakshmi, Dr. K. Ragu, Dr. T. Ganesh, Mr. P. Manikandan and all the contemporary research scholars of the Department and Colleagues of UCEP, Panruti for their excellent support in all his efforts.

The author is highly indebted to his father Mr. R. Janardhandan, sisters Mrs. J. Uma and Mrs. J. Geetha, uncles Mr. V.N.S. Srinivasan and Mr. V. Kishore Kumar for their encouragement throughout the period of the research. The author would like to show gratitude from the depth of heart to his wife Mrs. P. Hemalatha and affectionate daughter Ms. B. Keerti Srilakshmi played a vital role in completion of this dissertation.

The author dedicates this thesis to his mother Mrs. J. Lakshmibai who is in the feet of the God for her continuous blessings in the successful completion of Ph.D. course and expresses his sincere thanks to God Almighty for the great love and care showered upon him all throughout his life.