ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Although “to a deep sense of reverence no amount of words can express” still then I take this opportunity to put on record my most sincere gratitude to my teacher and research guide Prof. Tahir Asghar. The study would never have been reached to its present shape without the gracious supervision and personal encouragement of Prof. Tahir Asghar. He has been extremely generous for allowing me to provide fruitful in this regard. He has added new dimensions to my work.

I deeply acknowledge the guidance and insightful observations of my supervisor during Phil days Prof. Gulshan Sachdeva and consider myself greatly privileged that I could get an opportunity to study under him. During my PhD he has always been great support behind expounding new ideas, interpretations and meaning.

I take this opportunity to express my sincere regards to the teachers of Russian and Central Asian Studies especially Chairperson Prof. Anuradha M Chenoy, Prof. Ajay Patnaik, Prof. Tulsi Ram, Dr Sanjay Kumar Pandey, Dr Pholbadan for their constant support and source of encouragement for my PhD work.

I also owe great regards for Prof. C.P.Chadrashekhar, Prof. Arun Kumar and Prof D.N.Rao, sir for providing me guidance and insightful observations and suggestions that proved of immense help in my PhD. I also deeply acknowledge Prof. Ramkishan, Prof. S.P.Gaur, Dr.Rakesh Sharma, Ahuja Sir and Dr.Diwakar as without their contribution and support, it would be difficult for me to complete my PhD work.

I deeply acknowledge BOFIT (Bank of Finland Institute for Economics in Transition) researchers who are working on Russian economy, especially Pekka Sutela, Philip Hanson, Laura Solanko, Simo Leppanen, Laurent Weill, Zuzana Fungocova, Christophe J.Godlewski, Alexei Karas, Tulli Jurrikkala. Their exceptional research work on Russian banking has enabled me to produce this work. I also acknowledge various credit risk analyst and financial analyst working with Sberbank, InvestSberbank, OTP and Standard’s and Poor’s timely and updated response to my various queries.

My special appreciation goes to seniors, whose contributions to this research project can be realized from its conceptual framework to the concrete form. With deep reverence, I deeply acknowledge the cooperation extended by Dr. Samina
Didi, Dr. Saroj Didi and Dr. Athar bhaiya, which I received during my PhD period. Issh Bhaiya and Ravinder Gidder provided me first hand information on credit risk management in Punjab National Bank that proved a milestone in understanding the credit risk management in Indian perspective in a holistic manner.

I wish to express my deep appreciation and thankfulness to my friends Sushma, Indrani, Joyce, Sujeet, Priyanka, Durgesh and extremely great help from my juniors Anirudh and Chandan.

I also received enormous cooperation from various people of different libraries. I express my gratitude to the libraries of JNU, ICFAI, ICRIER, Institute of Banking and Finance; Teen Murty has been utilized for consultation.

This work is nothing but the dream of my late father Advocate Shri Omkar Singh Yadav which I seek to dedicate in his name and make him felt that your dream becomes true 'Pappa' through my academic excellence. I am also thankful to my beloved father for his invisible presence, support and love which I felt every moment during my research work. On this occasion, I seek the blessings of my adorable Mother, Bhai, Bhabhi, Lolly Didi, Bobly Didi, Surender Jijaji and Aman Jijaji . As the finest example of love and affection I got from Rahul, Naveen, Manisha, Nikita, Nikhil, Vardan and Sweety has been a great source of emotional support for this academic work. Without my family's exemplary patience and encouragement, completing PhD would have remained only a daydream.

This work, needless to say, is a result of sheer labour and each one who has contributed in terms of suggestions, or in terms of providing information, or in any other manner, has my sincerest gratitude. Finally, I acknowledge that I shall be responsible for all sorts of omissions and commissions in this research work.
