Acknowledgement

In the long journey of my research study which was full of challenges, I got an ideal teacher holding my hand, inspiring to face the challenges and get the pleasure from it. She is my revered supervisor Professor Debjani Sengupta, Former Head of the Department of Education, University of Calcutta. My dearth of vocabulary fails to express depth of my gratitude to her. At times of sinking in my life situation as personal worries became more priority than my research work, she stood by me and used to say, “Parshuram, you can do and have to complete it”. When the available software packages did not work out to teach mathematics, I almost got disappointed and got a feeling of quitting. But her advise; “Keep trying, you can do it” made me strong to struggle and finally developed an indigenous software in Bengali and Hindi to use for the research work. I have found her always with me in all of my days since my association.

I take the opportunity to express my sincere thanks to all the faculties of Department of Education for their constant support on every aspects of my research work. Whenever I have approached them, I have got their guidance without delay. My special thanks to Professor Aditi Ghosh of Department of Education for making me more enthusiastic in the subject matter of my research. Her presence in the chamber of my supervisor has given me a boost to my motivation to pursue my study.

I am indebted and extend my sincere thanks to Professor Krutibas Rath, Principal, Regional Institute of Education, Bhubaneswar for helping me in analyse the quantitative data of my research work and also for allowing me to use Institute’s Library for reference.

I place a record of my gratitude to the State Project Director of PaschimaBangaRajyaSarvaShikshya Mission, Kolkata, West Bengal for permission to carry out my research in the district of Kolkata and North 24 Parganas. I also extend my gratitude to the staff of District Project Offices of Kolkata and North24 Parganas for their support for sharing information related to the sample of the study.

I never can forget the support of the Head Masters and Head Mistress of the schools I have attended to carry out my research. In spite of their queries regarding the possibility of my study and the cooperation of the children; they have welcomed me with warm smiles and provided all the logistic supports to carry out my research. I am thankful to the teachers and special educators of Sarva Shikshay Abhiyan who were associated with the participants of my study.

I express my special thanks to Administration of Bikasayan, a special school for the children with mental retardation at Bonhooghly, Kolkata for their permission and support to field test the Software Programme developed to use as Computer Assisted Instruction for intervention. I am also thankful to National Institute for the Mentally Handicapped, Regional Centre, Kolkata for using its library even after my exit from that institution from faculty position.

I am indebted to Dr. Mrinmay Ray, the Assistant Professor of Instrumental Music, Rabindra Bharati University and Dr. N. S. Bharati, Post Graduate Teacher, Demonstration-Multipurpose School, Regional Institute of Education, Bhubaneswar for their concern and emotional support during my work. I sincerely thank the family members of Dr. Ray who provided logistic support to complete my research work.

Special thanks to my spouse Archana and my lovely son Ap Anshuman (Ansh); both of them have constantly reminded me to focus on my research work and have sacrificed their pleasure time due to my involvement in study. I am so happy to get cooperation from my baby daughter Pavani (Misti). She is too small to understand my time for study but she did. I specially thank Anil, my nephew, a Software Engineer for his technical support to develop the Software Package to use as Computer Assisted Instruction for teaching Mathematics to Children with Mental Retardation.

I express my sincere thanks to all the professionals, academician, and institutions whose names are not here but have extended their cooperation and support to complete my research work.

Last but important to record my gratitude for the parents of the children with mental retardation who allowed their children to be the participant of my study and also responded to the investigation for the study. I also express my affection and love to the children who participated in my research work and who imprinted unforgettable experience in my memory.
