Acknowledgements

It feels great to get a chance to concede the cordial gratitude and appreciations to those people who motivated to undertake this research work and encouraged me throughout the journey. It gives me immense pleasure to acknowledge their help, support, guidance and trust that I received in the course of completion of this thesis. This thesis has made possible because of the blessings of many people. I would love to take this opportunity to acknowledge all of them.

Foremost, I would like to express my sincere gratitude to my respected teacher and research advisor Prof. ChanderShekhar, Professor, Department of Fertility Studies, International Institute for Population Sciences (IIPS), Mumbai, for his valuable guidance, suggestions, constructive academic inputs, continuous support and encouragement during my pursuit for completion of my study. He taught me about research problems and ways to solve in different manner. He not only facilitated my research and encourage all my endeavors, but also provided me constant moral support to overcome many crisis situation and finish the dissertation.

I also express my sincere thanks to my advisory committee members, Prof. S.K Singh, Professor, Department of Mathematical Demography and Statistics, IIPS, and Prof. D.A. Nagdeve, Professor and Head, Department of Fertility Studies, IIPS, whose consistent guidance, and useful advice helped me a lot to sort out the technical details of my work.

I am very much grateful to Prof. F. Ram, Director & Senior Professor, IIPS for giving me the opportunity to undertake my research at this Institute. His constructive suggestions and comments guided me in preparing the survey instrument tools and questionnaires.

I am thankful to all the faculty members of the IIPS for their support and suggestions at various stages of this thesis. I am obliged to the Ph.D. coordinator Prof. S. Unisa, Professor, Department of Mathematical Demography and Statistics, IIPS for her constant support and loving behavior in facilitating all the resources needed in completion of this thesis. I am thankful to Prof. T.V.Sekhar for his constructive suggestion and support to carry out the study.

I am thankful to Dr. Srinivas Goli, Assistant Professor, CSRD, JNU, who encouraged me in selecting this particular topic of research and gave constructive suggestions in many critical stages of my research. I am also thankful to Dr. Kaushalendra Kumar, Assistant Professor, IIPS for giving me the valuable suggestion during the crucial time of survey tools preparation.
My sincere thank goes to Prof Jean Dreze, Social Activist and Development Economist, whose ideas and work inspired me to research with this particular topic of ‘food security and malnutrition’.

I must thank to Mr. M. Sekar, Assistant Registrar (Academic), IIPS, Mr. Somnath Choughule and other staffs in academic section for providing a great support and cooperative behavior during study period. I acknowledge Mr. D.D Mestri and Mr. Praveen Kumar and other awesome library staff for their immense help and cooperation while accessing the books and articles.

I am pleased to express my thank to Mr. Swarbhanu Nandi, Ms. Tania Basu, and Mrs Namrata Mondal for their valuable discussions, moral support and boosting my courage to complete the milestone. I cannot forget the immense support and vital academic discussions made by my friends and seniors. I express my thanks to Ranjan, Raj Narayan, Chandrasekhar, Mayank, Prahlad, Praveen, Amit, Absar, Jomet, Abdul, Bidhyadhar, Pallavi, Kshipra, Niharika, Awavdesh, Ashis, Ranjana and all my friends who helped me in numerous ways. I express my thanks to my junior Mayanka.

I am thankful to Ms. Kasturi Mondal, who was my source of inspiration to undertake this big challenge. I appreciate all her efforts, supports, encouragements and inspirations which always put my confident high.

I would like to express my gratitude to the respondents, who took lots of pain in providing the detailed information about several hidden aspects of their personal life, I am indeed grateful to them. Without their cooperation this study could not be made possible.

I am also thankful to the University Grand Commission for awarding the Junior Research Fellowship (JRF) during the whole course of the study. This financial support was meant a lot for continuing my research work.

I am highly thankful to my mother, father, and brother for their constant support in numerous ways throughout my academic career. They took lot of pain in making me able to cross several hurdles occurred while carrying out this research work.

I would like to thank everybody who was important to the successful realization of the thesis, as well as expressing my apology that I could not mention personally one by one.

My deepest gratitude to all of you and may god bless you all.

December, 2015

Sanjit Sarkar