ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

While submitting my thesis my thoughts go back over the past two years spent on completing this research project. There have been a number of people who have helped me sail through this taxing endeavour.

First and foremost, I thank my Research Guide, Dr. Satish A. Naringrekar, for his invaluable assistance and boundless patience during the course of my research. Regardless of the time of the day he was ever willing to answer my queries.

I am indebted to Dr. M. L. Dani (Dean of Commerce, JJTU) who put his vast experience in his invaluable suggestions which enriched my work. I am very grateful to Dr. Reecha Singh (HOD Management, JJTU) whose prompt inputs encouraged me to speed up my work.

Thanks are also due to the Principal of my institution Dr. N. N. Pandey for his encouragement in pursuing this degree, and to the library staff of Prahladrai Dalmia Lions College of Commerce & Economics and Mumbai University Library, Vidyanagri, for making the necessary books, journals, magazines and other reference material available to me.

I am grateful to the trinity of statistics teachers: Prof. Swati Mandavawalla, Prof. Swati Desai and Prof. Asha Jindal, who cleared my doubts and made valuable suggestions. Special thanks are due my colleague Rashmi Kulkarni for suggesting effective means of collecting data and to my friends who helped me to gather information from various sources.

I am grateful to my wife Madhusri for being patient and putting up with all my tantrums during the past few months and to my son Sanchit, without whose insistence this thesis would not have seen the light of day.
