Acknowledgement

Without any doubt, first and foremost, I would like to pay my humble reverence to almighty ALLAH, the most merciful and beneficent, without the Nourishers’ blessings the work would not have seen the light of the day.

The completion of a research work has never been a ‘one man show’ but collective efforts of all the well-wishers. This thesis has been very exciting and challenging for me and I have been accompanied by a great number of people whose contributions are worth to be acknowledged. At this phase of completion of the written work of my thesis, I find myself choked with emotions and difficult to express on recalling the people for acknowledgement. Still I attempt to name the few indispensable people without whose help and timely guidance the work would not have reached this stage.

There are no proper words to convey my deep gratitude and respect for my research supervisor and my mentor Dr. Shah Mohd. Khan, Associate Professor, Department of Psychology. I can never manifest the true sense of thanks to his kind support which he has provided throughout the entire period of my Ph.D. I acclaim his courage, respect his decisions, learn from his knowledge and reverence the personality he has. The thesis would have not been accomplished successfully without his kind support and sincere attention.

I am very much indebted to my Ex-Supervisor, Prof. Abu Sufiyan Zilli (Retd.), Department of Psychology, for giving the Midas touch at initial stage of my thesis. He has inspired me to become an independent researcher and helped me to realize the power of critical reasoning.

I acknowledge deep gratitude to Prof. Mohd. Ilyas Khan, Head of the Department of Psychology, A.M.U., Aligarh, for most honorable and esteemed teacher and a rare combination of knowledge and delicate human feelings for providing me this opportunity to carry out the study on the present problem.

This is privilege to express my deep sense of gratitude and gratefulness to Prof. Akbar Husain, Department of Psychology. He demonstrated a brilliant and hard-working researcher can accomplish. His advice on my research work has been invaluable.

I find myself strangulated with feelings to express my thankfulness to all my respected teachers Prof. Saeeduzzafar (Retd.), Prof. Shamim Ahmad Ansari, Prof. Mahmood S. Khan, Prof. Asiya Aijaz, Prof. Naheed Nizami, Prof. Naima K. Gulrez, Prof. Sahina Maqbool, Prof. Roomana Siddiqui, Prof. Musaddiq Jahan, Prof. Shah Alam, Dr. Rahat Ali Khan (Late), Dr. (Kr.) Sajid A. Khan, Dr. Asma Parveen, Dr. Nasheed Imtiyaz, Dr. S. Roshma Jamal, Dr. Salma Kaneez, Dr.
Mahvish Fatima and Dr. Mohammad Akram for their moral endorsement and guidance whenever it was required.

It is delightful for me to thank my seniors Dr. Shafiullah, Dr. (Hafiz) Iqtedar, Dr. Imran Hussain, Dr. Ali Imam, Dr. Nadeem, Shahab, and Shamsuddin for their appreciable advices.

It will be injustice, if I will not remember my dear friends at this juncture for being with me in all my good and bad times during my long stay at the Aligarh Muslim University. I feel very blessed when I count few names among them like Mudassir, Moied Khan, Ishtiyaq, (Hafiz) Sadiq, Humayun Akhtar, Irfanullah, Zeeshan, Nabeel, Anas, Masaud, Wasiuddin, Rashid, Shaharyar, Danish, Farooq, Ahmad, Qamar, Nizamuddin, (Maulana) Arif, Raffan, Mabroor, Minhaj, Suhail, Huzaifa, Saqib, Ameen, Rizwan, Asif, Tawfeeq, Munnoo, Tufail, Abdul Raffie, and Sharik.

I have no words to express my deep sense of gratitude to my brother Mohammad Zubair Khan and sister Maliha Khan for their unconditional support and cooperation that always helped me in combating the hurdles which comes during my study period and for the pride they expressed over my accomplishments.

I would be failing in my duties if I don’t express my gratitude towards my aunty Khatoon Jahan and uncle Mohammad Afsar Khan, Shafiqur-Rahman Khan and Ubaidur-Rahman Khan for their affection, assistance and the support that they provided throughout my research.

I am also immensely grateful to all the members of Seminar Library, Office Staff and Lab Staff, Department of Psychology, A.M.U., Aligarh, for their support and co-operation during the completion of my research work.

I owe my special thanks to the teachers of A.M.U. who served as subjects for the study. They deserve high appreciation for cooperation and giving their fair and unbiased responses.

(Mohd. Ahamar Khan)
