Employee feedback is based on the performance of employees. Performance is evaluated on a scale of one to three, with one being the lowest and three being the highest. The performance evaluation focuses on time periods ranging from one to three years. I am confident in the strategies we have implemented to improve overall performance. The appraisal system is growth-oriented, focusing on providing feedback and counseling to employees. The objectives of the appraisal system are to identify potential positions for employees. The appraisal data is used to make decisions related to job rotation, training, and compensation. Employees in our company have more than one potential position for promotion. Individual and company growth needs are matched in this company. I have flexibility in working hours.
