Our company conducts extensive training programs for its employees in all aspects of quality. Training needs are identified through a formal performance appraisal mechanism. The training program has improved my decision-making skills. I feel better equipped to tackle unexpected events with skill and confidence after training.

Promotion: My work plan accurately reflects my day to day activities. I am satisfied with my chance for promotion. I am motivated to stay at the company because of my benefits package. I am aware of all benefits to which I am entitled. The benefits package we receive is as good as most other company offer. Promotions are based on merit and seniority alone.

</table>
Our company conducts extensive training programs for its employees in all aspects of quality.

Training needs are identified through a formal performance appraisal mechanism.

The training program has improved my decision-making skills.

I feel better equipped to tackle unexpected events with skill and confidence after training.

Promotion

My work plan accurately reflects my day-to-day activities.

I am motivated to stay at the company because of my benefits package.

The benefits package we receive is as good as most other companies offer.

Promotions are based on merit and seniority alone.

Our company conducts extensive training programs for its employees in all aspects of quality. Training needs are identified through a formal performance appraisal mechanism. The training program has improved my decision-making skills. I feel better equipped to tackle unexpected events with skill and confidence after training.

Promotion: My work plan accurately reflects my day to day activities. I am satisfied with my chance for promotion. I am motivated to stay at the company because of my benefits package. I am aware of all benefits to which I am entitled. The benefits package we receive is as good as most other company offerings. Promotions are based on merit and seniority alone.
