I thank God for His goodness to me in the completion of this work.

I profoundly thank my teacher and my guide, Prof. Lalitha Eapen for her continued forbearance during this study. She introduced me and helped me savour the ‘science of Sociology’ as a perspective for language teaching and learning.

I am extremely thankful to Prof. Jacob Tharu, Prof. Rama Mathew, for the insights they provided me with. I remember with gratitude the input from Late Prof. Ramadevi during my Course work.

I thank the students who took time to fill the questionnaires and gave their views; the teachers who gave their views to me freely.

My Parents, Mr. G. B. Yesubhakth and Mrs. T. S. Suneethi, are the source of my inspiration. This is but a small way to thank them.

I thank my sisters, Mrs. Esther Prabhu Jyothi and Mrs. Mahitha Lydia

I thank all my friends and well wishers, who have been with me all through, giving me encouragement and support in more ways than one.

My little sons, Cherub and Seraph, gave me the joy I needed all through. Palmy and Chris; Rosy and Juno; Cherub and Seraph, I wish that you would scale greater heights through the triumphs of the grace of the Lord JESUS that enabled me thus far.

G. Amitha Ruth
