ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The present work may bear the name of one person, but there were many people working behind the scene, upholding and encouraging me, never failing in their duty to keep up my spirits. Acknowledging their contribution is the least I can do.

For their unfailing love and support, I thank and would like to forever remain in the debt of –

My companions on this journey, who walked each step with me – My husband, Sandeep and daughter, Tanisha; My motivators – My father, Shri Arvind Vinayak Kulkarni, who helped me keep my goal in sight always and whose dream it was that this should happen, my mother, Mrs. Vaishali Kulkarni, whose faith and piety are an inspiration, my mother in law Mrs. Ratnaprabha Kedari, and aunt in law, Ms. Jayayashri Kedari, for their constant support, my sisters and their spouses - Manjiri and Vishal Gadekar, Drs. Ashwini and Saurabh Joshi, my paternal aunts, who were so involved and inspiring, Shaila Atya, Sudha Atya, Raju Atya and my nieces and nephew, Jiya, Riva and Shaunak whose innocent company provided a refreshing break,

My guide – Dr. Shobhana C. Abhyankar, who accepted, mentored and nurtured me and poured all her considerable passion and energy in honing my very raw research skills,

Dearest Friends Jaya – who guided, counseled and shared her wisdom unreservedly and Garima – cheer leader and chider in chief,

My well wishers and facilitators – College management and staff of Abeda Inamdar Senior College, Azam Campus, Pune – Principal, Vice-Principal, my colleagues and students Prerna, Asharani, Rim and BZ, from the Psychology department, Dr. Mehmood Sayyed, Head, Department of Statistics, other colleagues, especially from Arts Faculty,

The Department of Psychology, SPPU – Head and staff as well as former head, Dr. B. R. Shejwal as well as the Librarian and staff of Jayakar Library, SPPU,
All the staff and students from various colleges who selflessly helped in data collection – Ms. Pooja Prabhavalkar, Mr. Anil Savarkar (also for his help with SPSS and brainstorming!), Mrs. Sheetal Ruikar from Fergusson College, Madhu and Sheena from St. Mira’s College, Dr. Alpana Vaidya, Shweta and Giridharan from Symbiosis College, Dr. Amruta Oke from Modern College and last but not the least – all the participants for quantitative and qualitative study who generously made me a part of their life,

Thank you all!

Finally, this remains a humble offering to Sadguru, who stays with and in all of us and lovingly guides us…
