In the Name of Allah, the Most Gracious and the Most Merciful.

First and foremost, I thank Allah (swt) for bestowing me with this opportunity and for granting me the capability to proceed successfully. It was only due to His blessings that I could complete my thesis. It was my long cherished dream. Its realization would not have been possible without His grace. This task has been accomplished due to the kind assistance and valuable guidance of several persons. Hence, I express my utmost thanks to all of them.

I am extremely indebted to my esteemed supervisor, Prof. Arvind Jasrotia, for agreeing to guide me. He needs to be warmly thanked for his kind patience, valuable advice, constructive criticism, constant encouragement and thoughtful guidance and useful corrections in this thesis. His commitment for the research has been a great motivation for me. I cannot imagine having a better supervisor and mentor. He always steered me in the right direction whenever needed. The door to his office has remained always open for me. Indeed, working under him is an unforgettable experience for me.

I would also like to thank Dr. George Mathew & Dr. Ash Narain Roy, the Chairman and the Director of Indian Institute of Social Sciences respectively who provided me an opportunity to join their institute as an Intern and gave me access to their library. Their precious guidance at the very beginning of my research work helped me a lot. Prof. Rekha Choudhary too merits my sincere thanks for her valuable advice and kind suggestions during the preparation of this thesis. It would not have been completed without her guidance as she has done made an in-depth study of Panchayati Raj in Jammu and Kashmir. I am also grateful to Prof. Ranbir Singh, former Dean Social Sciences, Kurukshetra University for his insightful comments.

My parents too deserve to be thanked for their constant support whenever I faced obstacles. All the help that they have provided me over the years has been a great gift. I am also grateful to them for inculcating the value of hard work in me. Without them, I may never have been able to attain my present position.
I also want to express my utmost gratitude and deepest appreciation to my husband, Tahir Manhas and my sons Ezaan and Emaan for their great patience and love without which I would have not been able to undertake this work.

I owe heartfelt thanks also to Nighat, Mukhtar and Hafeez caretakers of my sons, for taking care of them in my long absence during this research work.

The assistance provided by the staff of Indian Institute of Social Sciences, Indian Institute of Public Administration, The Jammu & Kashmir Institute of Management, Public Administration and Rural Development (JKIMPA), Jay Kay Law Reporter (Pvt) Ltd, Directorate of Rural Development, Jammu, A. C. Joshi Library Punjab University, the Library of Delhi University and the Library of Jammu University; also needs to be highly appreciated.

Lastly, I must thank the members of Halqa Majlis and Halqa Panchayats who helped me in the completion of this research work through their kind cooperation during the course of their interviews. They are too numerous to be listed.
