5. STATISTICAL ANALYSIS

Strata 14.2 was used to perform the analysis. All the physiological variables were presented as Mean± Standard Deviation (SD). Independent sample t test was used to check significant difference between normal visceral fat group and high visceral fat group. Regression analysis was used to see relation between dependent variables SBP and DBP and independent variables TBF and VFL. A p-value <0.05 was considered significant.