ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

First of all, I am thankful to God for giving me this opportunity and to complete my work. It gives me an immense pleasure and pride to express my deep sense of gratitude and respect for my teacher and research supervisor Dr. Y. Venkateswarlu, Chief Scientist, Natural Products Chemistry Division, Indian Institute of Chemical Technology, Hyderabad, for his evergreen expertise and inspiring guidance throughout the period of my research career. I am indebted to him enlightening me on the finer skills of dealing with synthetic problems. I consider myself fortunate to be associated with him who gave a decisive turn, a significant boost to my career.

I am extremely grateful to my research co-supervisor Dr. K. Mukkanti, Director, Institute of Science and Technology, JNTU Hyderabad, for his kind support throughout the research period.

I express my special thanks to Dr. S. Chandrasekhar, Head, Natural Products Chemistry Division, for his constant support throughout the period. I also owe hearty thanks to Dr. J. S. Yadav, Director, Indian Institute of Chemical Technology, Hyderabad for providing necessary facilities for carrying out this investigation.

I record my gratitude to Dr. M. S. R. Murthy, Dr. Biswanath Das, Dr. Chinna Raju and Dr. P. Mangalagowri for their valuable guidance, advice, cooperation and constant encouragement during the research period.

I am thankful to Dr. A. C. Kunwar, Dr. Jagadeesh and Mr. Rajendra Prasad for their kind help in providing the NMR spectra.

I express my heartful thanks to Dr. S. Malla Reddy, Dr. P. Krishnaiah, Dr. M. Srinivasulu, Dr. N. Surya Kiran, Dr. T. Srikanth Reddy, Dr. M. Narasimhulu, Dr. K. C. Mahesh, Dr. P. Prabhakar, Dr. Jon Paul, Smt. K. Asha Latha, Dr. K. Rajesh, Dr. V. Suresh, Mr. Ch. Bhujanga Rao, Mr. D. Kumar Reddy, Mr. V. Sekhar, Mr. D. Chanti Babu, Mr. S. Raja Ram, Mr. S. Purushotham Reddy, Mr. D. Chandra rao, Mr. B. Chinna Babu, Mr. U. Ramulu, Mr. K. Venkatesham and Mr. Koushal for their suggestions and cooperation during my research work.
My heartiest thanks to my friends, Mr. A. Ramulu, Mr. B. Srinivas Reddy, A. Vasu, Mr. K. Adi, Mr. M. Paramesh and Mr. K. Ramesh for their support and encouragement.

I would like to take this opportunity to express my sincere thanks to my friends and colleagues Mr. K. Yugandhar, Mr. V. Manoj, Dr. K. Jagadeesh, Mr. Rajasingh, Mr. J. Ramakrishna, Mr. G. Amar, Mr. E. Amar, Mr. N. Subbu and Mr. K. Veeraiah for their encouragement.

The thesis today is fruitful because I have been nurtured incessantly with moral support and encouragement since my childhood from my teachers and friends.

Words are not enough to express my thanks to my grandmother Smt. Muttamma and to my parents, Mr. Komuraiah and Smt. Yadamma to whom I owe my very existence. Their blessings only have helped me in reaching this goal.

I wish to express my heartfelt thanks to my wife Mrs. Rama for her affectionate encouragement and support from time to time. I admire my daughter Geethu for her love that relieved, refreshed and rejuvenated me to continue to take the task ahead with full strength.

I thank all my family members Uma, Mallesh, Bixapathi, Poolamma, Ramulu, Sharada, Anjaneyulu, Saraswathi, Gangadhar, Harathi and also to all my relatives.

The contribution extended either directly (or) indirectly by various departments of and IICT such as Chemical stores, Purchase Section, Glass Blowing, Workshop etc. is appreciated and I am thankful to R&D cell, JNTU Hyderabad for giving me the opportunity for registration.

I am grateful to Ministry of Earth Sciences, New Delhi and Council of Scientific and Industrial Research, New Delhi for providing financial assistance in the form of Junior Research Fellowship and Senior Research Fellowship respectively.

Finally, I take this opportunity to thank one and all that has directly or indirectly helped me in completing this task.
