ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

It gives me great pleasure to express my deep gratitude and esteemed regards to all those who have directly or indirectly helped me to make my research work possible and an unforgettable experience. I believe that the completion of my research work, a cooperative venture, is an outcome of the help, cooperation, guidance and encouragement of numerous people including my guide, well-wishers and all my friends. It is the right moment to record my profound gratefulness to all of them. To be true, words are not enough to express my emotions and feelings at this auspicious point of time. I am immensely pleased to record my gratitude and reverence to my guide Dr. Rajendra G. Gurao who has encouraged me by his valuable support and motivation and guidance during the entire progress of this work. My special thanks are also to Dr. Sharad D. Gore for his fullest support, willing cooperation and his much-required scholarly guidance. My research activity would not have been possible without their valuable suggestions and instructions, constant support and encouragement. I feel pride to mention that they accorded all their intellectuality and scholarship which enabled me to design a painstaking research proposal and to move forward to materialize it. Hence, my first and foremost sincere and special thanks are to both of them.

I am wordless to thank the Chairman, the Secretary, all the members of the Management of Anekant Education Society, Baramati, Dist- Pune, Maharashtra, and Prin. Dr. Chandrashekhar Murumkar, the Principal, Tuljaram Chaturcand College of Arts, Science and Commerce, Baramati, for their kind and generous permission to undertake my research work. I would also express my immense indebtedness to my friend Dr. Tukaram Sawant for his help in the language corrections and profound interest in this research. I also owe my deep sense of gratitude and special thanks to my friends, Dr. Ashok Kalange, Dr. Vasant Nikam, Dr. Suresh Salunke, Mr. Keshav Dhamal, Mr. Dnyaneshwar Dhavan, Mr. Vikas Kakade, Mrs. Neeta Dhane, Dr. Vaishali Patil, Mrs. Jaya Limbore, Miss. Aparna Gurao and many others for having been the source of encouragement and inspiration for me right from the beginning of my research work. These are the special friends for mine, who, with their generous care and concern for me, have always been with me during the happy and hard moments in my life, pushing me forward and inspiring me. I express my sense of thankfulness to all my colleagues in the department for the help and cooperation I received from them. I am thankful also to Mr. Dattatray Khot who helped me a lot in the work of typing and many other things.

Most importantly, I owe my deep and endless sense of gratitude to my parents, Mr. Shrirangrao Jagtap and Mrs. Kamal Jagtap who set me free for my research activity, shouldering the responsibility of my family. The present research activity would never have been possible without their unending support and cooperation. I can never forget a sense of tolerance and great patience shown by Mrs. Sarika, my beloved wife, during the course of my research work. My special thanks, therefore, are to her. I have no words also to express my sense of gratitude to Smt. Kalindi C. Jagtap, my cooperative sister-in-law, Amit and Akshay, my loving and caring nephews, and Rohan, my lovely and caring son - my entire family with its immeasurable support and cooperation owing to which I could achieve true success not only in my research activity but also in my life. To conclude I humbly believe that I could achieve success in my research work as well as in my life due to the blessings of my elder brother Late Chandrashekhar Jagtap.
