Contents

Preface

Contents

Chapter I
Policies of France and the United States
  towards the North Atlantic Treaty Alliance and Organization
  Causes of France's dissatisfaction with NATO
  New French Policy since 1958
  The strategic problem
  The multilateral force
  French world policy
  French ideas of Europe
  French attitude regarding the United States' Role in Europe

Chapter II
French nuclear policy
  Background of the nuclear policy
  Debate on the development of atomic energy
  Nuclear policy under the Fifth Republic
  Concept of National Interest and Nation
  French strategic theory
  The role of Gen. de Gaulle in the French nuclear force
iii

The French nuclear force - an appraisal

Chapter III The French and U.S. policy towards European political unity and integration

Background

Nato - its establishment

Economic Unity

The problem

European political unity and integration -
A study of the French attitude

United States' policy towards European unity and integration

Grand design of partnership with Europe - did it erode?

Another grand debate.

Chapter IV France's policy towards West Germany

In the earlier times

New policy towards Germany

French attitude towards the Berlin problem

Franco - German Treaty of Co-operation

Co-operation under the Treaty

United States' reaction to the Franco-German Treaty
Reactions and attitude of West Germany to French policies 217
West German position in relation to the United States 224
What is the impact of the Franco-German Treaty? 235

Chapter V  France and the United States 239-305
Into the past 239
Under the Fifth Republic 241
Nation and national ambition 245
Change and continuity after 1958 256
French policy after 1958 in relation to NATO and other issues. 258
Kennedy-De Gaulle conference and after 263
Gen. de Gaulle's Press Conference of January 14, 1963 284
Economic factors 297

Chapter VI  Conclusions 306-312
Bibliography 313-332
Primary Sources 313
Secondary Sources 314
Interviews 332