ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

“There is no such thing as a 'self-made' man. We are made up of thousands of others. Everyone who has ever done a kind deed for us, or spoken one word of encouragement to us, has entered into the make-up of our character and of our thoughts, as well as our success.” These words of George Matthew Adams beautifully resonates my sentiments. Everyone needs help from everyone, and it is my pleasure to express my gratitude to several people without whom, it would have been arduous to complete this project.

First and foremost my deepest gratitude to my guide and mentor, Prof. Usha Ram, under whose supervision I was able to carry out my work. If it were not for her constant support and unswerving belief in me, I would not have been able to even contemplate this project.

It is because of the training imparted to me in Music by Mrs. Veera B. Pooniwalla and Mrs. Ferieda Havewala of St. Cecilia’s School of Music, that I was initiated to music as a healing tool. I thank Jazmine DeSylva for initiating me into the world of formal structured dance. I am grateful for their support over the last 20 years.

Thanks to Ms Tripura Kashyap, who taught me the rudiments of dance therapy and helped me with the dance therapy plan and activities.

If it were not for the cooperation of the many schools that were part of this study, this project would never have seen the light of day. A sincere thank you to the Principals, staff, teachers, parents and students of all the schools.
I would like to thank Professor Erna Gronlund, from the University College of Dance in Stockholm, Sweden, and Ms. Daphne Rickson from Conservatorium of Music, Massey University Wellington, New Zealand for sending me a copy of their respective studies on ADHD.

I am grateful to all the faculty members of the Department, Prof. Lodhi, Dr. Wadkar, Dr. Shejwal, Dr. Thingujam and Mr. Mhaske for their continued support and encouragement. A special thanks to Dr. Deuskar for her support and assistance with statistics. I would also like to thank my colleagues as well as the Staff of the Department of Psychology as well as that of the Jayakar Library for their cooperation.

I am grateful to Edwin Fernandes for the tremendous support and help with data compilation, scoring, analysis, submission and for teaching me to work with Excel and SPSS.

I am thankful to Jamien Rao for the unwavering conviction in me and for being a pillar of strength over the years.

To my father, mother and brother, without whose support pursuing a doctorate would have still been just a dream, I am thankful.

As Winston Churchill said, “This is not the end. This is not even the beginning of the end. But, it is, perhaps the end of the beginning”.

Thank You.
