In my life's way, I can never forget the help from Miss. Rajom, the Executive Engineer, Jalabhavan, Thiruvananthapuram, Mr. Philip, UD clerk, water supply subdivision, Choondy, and Mr. Johnson, UD clerk, water supply subdivision, Parur. They are the three benevolent faces ever I have met in Government departments.

On my way I had confronted with many difficult moments... the moments that made me totally blank, and detected. Many a times I was really caught up in darkness without knowing which way to move and which direction to take. In all my frustrated, moments Leena teacher came by my side with the words of consolation. More than a good counselor, she showed keen interest in knowing the progress of the work at each and every stage. Nobody else in this world would have ever wished to see this work getting completed successfully. How can I repay the help, the chanting words of consolation, the support, all that she extended throughout?

I'm indebted to my friend and colleague, Manjula, K. for her, advice, suggestions, and constant inspiration throughout the work. In all my detached moments, when I wanted someone to share with she was there always by my side. I do acknowledge the good words, the help, which can I never forget along my life's way.

I deem it necessary to acknowledge my gratitude to my husband for his sincere support throughout the work. Without his wholehearted support and encouragement I could never have been able to complete this work. With all affection and to some extent with much surprise, I admit the patience my son had shown on the way of preparation of this work. While I was busy with the research work, my son deprived of the motherly affection, which he suffered serenely without any complaint. Nothing I have in this world to repay for that big sacrifice.

I am indebted to Rema, who had been a source of inspiration and encouragement to me throughout. Her usual way of arguments attracted my attention to many crucial dimensions of the work. I earned much from our extensive discussions about different aspects of this study. I can never forget in my life the help I received from Rema.

I remember with gratitude the help, encouragement, and inspiration I received from Thara especially during the field surveys.

I am thankful to Mr. Ashen. C. Paul, for his help and Mr. Binu, Mr. Ashraf, and Miss. Rekha for their expert guidance in computer skills.

Words fail to express my gratitude to Mr. P.K. Kochunni, and Rema chechi, my in-laws, for their timely help and constant inspiration throughout.

I am obliged a lot to my parents, my brother, Suresh and my sisters who had been the main source of inspiration and guidance in all my academic pursuits.

And I bow before the Almighty for blessings.
