Acknowledgement

Since the final writing began Sanjay Kumar has been intimately involved with this study. His comments on the thesis, the spirited arguments we had on problems of mutual interest, and his own project on small powerlooms have helped shape a number of ideas here.

Sumit Guha has gone through successive drafts of the thesis and at each stage offered constructive comments.

Thanks are due to several others who have read and commented on the draft, specially to Sudipto Mundle, Sabyasachi Bhattacharya, Raman Mahadevan, K K Subrahmanian, Chandan Mukherjee, Haseeb Drabu, D Rajaschkar and Mridul Eapen.

Much of the data was collected in the National Library at Calcutta and the Gokhale Institute library at Pune. I have received generous help and cooperation from the staff of these two libraries while working there.

The thesis has been supervised by K K Subrahmanian and Sudipto Mundle and their involvement was of help throughout.
Map: Principal Handloom Zones

Note: See also Maps 1 and 2, Chapter 5, for location of weaving towns.